Florida Awaits 'Donna'

Hurricane Hits Keys

(Times News Services)

MARATHON, Fla. — Hurricane Donna swept in on the Florida Keys with murderous 150-mile-an-hour winds today and trained its sights on the populous Miami metropolitan area.

The Miami weather bureau issued an emergency warning that residents of the island chain stretching south from the Florida tip had only "an hour or two" to get out or sit tight in whatever shelters they could find.

At 1 p.m. EST (11 a.m. PDT) Donna's centre was located only 150 miles south-southeast of Miami and about the same distance east-southeast of Key West. It was moving toward the west-northwest at 12 miles an hour.

Hurricane hunter planes keeping watch on the "extremely wet" storm said it had begun a very gradual drift more northwestward, meaning "the area of maximum winds and highest tides would be experienced in the middle keys."

The turn made it even more likely than before than the Miami gold coast area and the southern west coast of Florida would feel at laest part of the storm's brutal force.

11 FOOT TIDE

In an emergency warning to residents of the Keys—the long chain of islands extending south and west from the Florida mainland—the weather bureau said tides will range up to 11 feet above normal.

Even six-foot tides would inundate a large part of the Keys.

Heavy squalls with considerable local flooding was forecast for the interior of Cuba.

Winds reached 150 mph at the centre of the storm and hurricane-force winds extended outward 135 miles to the southwest. Gales stretched 250 miles to the northeast and 140 miles to the southwest.

Forecasters said Donna might pass through the Florida Straits and move into the Gulf of Mexico.

BOARDED UP

Key West, a city of 45,000 lying 90 miles north of Havana, boarded up and prepared to wait out the storm. The huge naval installation there was buttoned up. All vessels put out to sea and aircraft were ferried northward.

HOMES DESTROYED

As the storm's first hard blows were delivered on Cuba, flood waters destroyed about 80 houses in the coastal community of Gibara. More than 3,000 persons were evacuated.

The hurricane produced one of the biggest buying sprees in south Florida since last Christmas. Shelves were stripped of canned goods, bread, milk, flashlights and batteries, candles and camp stoves.

KATANGA INVADERS RESISTED

Guinea Wants To Pull Out

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters) — The Guinean detachment with the United Nations force said today it wanted to pull out of the Congo until the UN "ceased its flagrant interference" in internal Congolese affairs.

The Guinean action came soon after Premier Patrice Lumumba announced he had taken over the functions of head of state in addition to his present post of premier.

The head of the Guinean command told a press conference that Gen. Diane Lansana had asked President Sekou Toure to agree to the "provisional withdrawal" of the contingent.

In another development, The Associated Press reported from Elisabethville that Katanga government sources claimed the central Congolese government force invading Katanga province has been stopped by a resistance force.

NO FIGHTING YET

No fighting has yet been reported between the invasion troops and the Katanga border guards, who have been planning their defences since Katanga seceded from the central government in July.

The Katanga government defied a United Nations order closing its airports and started a movement of military aircraft from Elisabethville to meet the invasion.

Katanga army personnel, including white officers, forced Swedish UN guards at gunpoint to let two Katanga air force aircraft take off.

The head of Guinea's mission in Leopoldville, Tibu Tunkara did not say whether the Guinean troops—one battalion out of two destined for the Congo—would be put at Lumumba's disposal.

Fall Kills Carpenter

Ronald Geoffrey Marshall, a Saanichton carpenter, died today en route from Sidney to Victoria where he was being rushed for treatment of injuries suffered in a 16-foot fall.

According to reports, Mr. Marshall fell from a ladder while at work on a service station being constructed at the intersection of East Saanich Road and the new Swartz Bay Highway, near North Saanich High School.

The accident occurred at about 9.45 a.m.

Sidney Fire Department ambulance attended, and took the injured man to Rest Haven Hospital in Sidney. It was decided that he should have special surgery, but he died in the ambulance before reaching Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria.

Sidney RCMP are investigating and an inquest will be held.

The 47-year-old accident victim, a native son of Victoria, and member of the carpenters' union, lived on the Patricia Bay Highway at Saanichton. He is survived by the widow, Gladys, at home; a sister, Mrs. S. Arrowsmith, Saanichton; his mother, Mrs. Annie Marshall, Sidney, and three nieces.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by McCalls.

Halt Arms Dag Warns Belgium

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold has requested the United Nations Security Council to convene an emergency session tonight to deal with the Congo situation.

Diplomatic sources said the 11-nation body would meet at 8.30 p.m. EDT (5.30 p.m. PDT) and would remain in session far into the night.

Thursday Hammarskjold warned Belgium against tampering in the muddled affairs of the Congo.

The secretary-general said he had received confirmed reports that nine tons of weapons were unloaded Wednesday from a Belgian Sabena Airlines plane at Elisabethville airport in the secessionist province of Katanga.

HIT BY REDS

Hammarskjold, under attack from Russia, Yugoslavia and Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba, sought council action to halt the flow of outside aid to battling Congolese factions.

The call presumably was directed against both Belgium and the Soviet Union. Russia has been sending planes, troop carriers and technicians to Lumumba.

The secretary-general has also called on the 11-power council to provide $100,000,000 to help the infant nation get its bearings.

Hammarskjold has insisted the UN operation in the Congo must remain non-partisan and has proposed disarming non-UN military units as a step to restoring order.

Winds Fan New Fires In Maritimes

HALIFAX (CP) — Forest fire fighters in the Atlantic provinces were promised a few showers today but sufficient rain to end the menace was still not in sight.

More fires broke out as temperatures sored to the high 80s and were fanned by brisk winds.

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — It would be foolish at the present time for Canada to consider withdrawal from NATO, "costly though it is to the public," Defence Minister Pearkes said here today.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Broadcast Governors recommended today that the government proceed with granting a licence to CKPG Television Limited for a new station at Prince George, B.C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev apparently has rejected an appeal by the United States for the release of two crewmen of an RB47 reconnaissance plane shot down July 1 in the Barents Sea, it was disclosed today.

The state department said the results of an appeal to the Russian leader, made by the U.S. ambassador "were not encouraging."

'QUESTION OF ETHICS' SAYS BONNER

Ex-Convict Socred Can't Verify Story

VANCOUVER (CP) — Social Credit candidate Donald Riggan said Thursday night he made three attempts to verify with unnamed authorities his story that he served a prison term for theft as part of a "Secret Service" assignment.

But, he told a reporter, the people he sought were "evasive" and he didn't blame them.

He issued a statement saying: "I stand convicted by the past, a past I felt had been left behind . . . I can only hope that to my friends, no explanation is necessary. To my enemies, and they appear powerful, no explanation is sufficient."

Mr. Riggan told of a "desperate situation" that led to the disclosure of his story.

There had been a "whispering campaign" about the charges for more than a week.

He said during the questioning by a reporter who inquired about the rumors, "I saw the new life I had built for myself and family going up in smoke."

'Bitter, Vindictive Campaign'

"It was a desperate situation, and I was desperately anxious to preserve my wife and children from the shame that would follow such revelations, not too sensational in themselves, but highly colored by the bitter and vindictive campaign that has been waged against the party that I represent in Delta."

Mr. Riggan, 41-year-old father of six, is a director of the British Columbia Social Credit League and president of the constituency league in Delta, where he is seeking election in next Monday's province-wide voting.

He said Thursday night he will not quit the campaign and, in fact, will speak in Delta tonight. Mrs. Riggan said she will go with him.

He indicated, without specifying, that there were discrepancies in a statement published earlier in which he admitted he had been sentenced to three years in prison for theft of public funds.

The thefts occurred in Edson, Alta., while he was a bailiff for the Edmonton sheriff. But Riggan said it was part of an elaborate plot to obtain vital information from a "brilliant Nazi scientist named Adolph Kratz," who was serving a sentence for murder in Prince Albert Penitentiary.

He said he was convicted by a jury on one charge and pleaded guilty to five others. He also admitted obtaining $1,175 in a car deal by false pretences, but claimed he pleaded guilty in error and did not correct the error because it made no difference to the three-year prison term he was given.

He was paroled after 11 months and served out the term on probation.

However, at Prince Albert, Deputy Warden Jack Weeks said he recalled both Kratz and Riggan. He described Kratz as being almost illiter-

We're Not Claiming Him RCMP States

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP refused today to link itself with an undercover assignment which British Columbia election camdidate Donald Riggin says he once carried out in order to obtain scientific information from a German prisoner of war.

"We certainly are not going to claim him," an RCMP spokesman said here. He added that he thought it was "really a political situation, rather than a police one."

The RCMP said its records show that a man by the name of Riggan did serve time in the Prince Albert Penitentiary, "but we are not going to say it was the same man," since details of the offences involved were lacking here.

VICE-REGAL POST SEEMS CERTAIN

Faux-Pas by PM's Ex-Aide Tips Off Pearkes Move

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Reports that Defence Minister George Pearkes will soon be leaving the cabinet to accept the office of lieutenant-governor of British Columbia have been strengthened by a political faux pas committed by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's former executive assistant.

The prime minister's aide, Gowan T. Guest, who resigned from his post this month to return to law practice on the west coast, has reportedly made a direct request for the nomination as a Conservative candidate in Mr. Pearke's seat of Esquimalt-Saanich. He has made the bid before it has become officially known that Mr. Pearkes was going to resign.

Mr. Pearkes' decision to quit the cabinet and step into the post of Queen's representative at Victoria is expected to hinge on the outcome of B.C.'s provincial election Monday. Mr. Pearkes is known to be acceptable as lieutenant-governor to the present premier, W. A. C. Bennett. However, should the Social Credit party be defeated Robert Strachan, the CCF leader, who is said to have the best chance of defeating the present regime, or the Liberal leader Ray Perrault, might not be amenable to the appointment of Mr. Pearkes.

Lieutenant-governors are appointed on the recommendation of the Prime Minister, but it is doubtful that the federal government would go directly against the wishes of a provincial premier.

Adding credence to the suggestion that Mr. Pearkes will soon be moving to B.C. is a report that friends are raising a $200,000 funds to assist him meet the high costs of holding the office of lieutenant-governor.

The fund for General Pearkes is being raised by a group of political non-partisans who financed the purchase, reconditioning and equipping of Stornoway as the official home of the Opposition leader in Ottawa, it is reported.

As lieutenant-governor of B.C., succeeding industrialist Frank M. Ross whose term expires early next month, Mr. Pearkes would draw only an official salary of $9,000 and an expense account allotment of $12,000. The cost of maintaining the lieutenant-governor's office and carrying out all the official and social obligations runs beyond that figure by far, it is understood.

If Mr. Bennett's party forms the government after the provincial election next week Mr. Pearkes' resignation is expected to follow shortly.

His departure could trigger the long awaited shuffle of the cabinet which is known to be in the cards. Already there are two vacancies. A forestry minister has to be named for the new forestry department and the office of secretary of state is vacant because the former minister Henri Courte-

'I Haven't Resigned'

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Defence Minister Pearkes landed here today on his way to visit the Royal Canadian Regiment camp at Ipperwash, Ont., but would give no clue to his future intentions.

"Well, I haven't resigned my constituency," Mr. Pearkes said. "I'm still a member of Parliament. Anyone can go and run where he likes, but there's got to be a vacancy."

He refused to make further comment.

U.S. 'Spite' Hits Fraser Coho Run

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian fisheries officials today charged Washington State officials of spite action that could wipe out a cycle of the Fraser River coho salmon.

Spokesmen said action by Milo Moore, Washington State director of fisheries, in recently opening fishing off Point Roberts and Bellingham was a reprisal designed to save United States coho runs and erase a Canadian cycle.

They said the only coho in that small area are bound for the Fraser River. Coho are called silver salmon in the U.S.

W. R. Hourston, Pacific fishing area director, last week refused a request by Moore to close the Strait of Juan de Fuca for fishing.

As a result of the Canadian refusal, and continued fishing in the rich area at the mouth of the Juan de Fuca Strait, Moore reopened a small section off Point Roberts.

Officials say the path of the coho is mainly on the Canadian side of the border in the Juan de Fuca than mainly on the U.S. side in the Strait of Georgia until past Point Roberts.

They say there is ample escapement for the fish in Juan de Fuca.

Most of the fish head for the Fraser River although some go to other rivers in Canada and the U.S.

PICKETERS IN TIGHT SKIRTS

Sex Newest Strike Weapon

LONDON (UPI) — Fifteen teen-aged girls who walked off their jobs here may have found the ultimate strike weapon—flirting.

Linda James, a beautiful 18-year-old Cockney lass, who is the youngest shop steward in Britain, led 14 girls and two men out on strike three days ago at Sunpak Ltd., a maker of collapsible tubes and other items.

"We will fight to the end for shorter hours, better pay and decent ventilation," said Linda.

Police inspector James Mayer warned her there must be "no rough stuff."

Linda agreed, but she said, "we may flirt with the truck drivers to try to stop them going out of the factory to make deliveries."

So Linda and the other girls dress in tight skirts and wear spike heels with pointed toes for their picket tour every day.

There has been only one crack in the united front. The husband of 19-year-old Doris McGuigan, one of the pickets, has threatened to leave his wife unless she gives up the strike.

The husband told her this morning: "This strike has made you neglect your home and responsibilities. You have not even made the bed yet."

13 PEAKS CONQUERED BY U.K. ARMY SQUAD

EDMONTON (CP) — A seven-man climbing team from the British Army arrived in Edmonton Wednesday night following a 42-day assault on some of the highest, unclimbed peaks in a virtually unexplored region of northern British Columbia.

The group, from the Royal Fusiliers, City of London Regiment, left Thursday for London, Ont. Later this month, they will board a ship at Halifax for the trip home.

Headed by Capt. M. R. F. Jones, 26, a regular officer and adjutant of the regimental depot, the team scaled 13 peaks in the Rockies south of Mile 403 on the Alaska Highway. The highest mountain climbed was 9,500-foot Mount Stalin.

One of the first unnamed peaks scaled, 9,000 feet high, was christened Mount Fusilier in honor of the regiment.

Buller licked his hand and looked puzzled.

The case has amazed surgeons at the Royal Veterinary Hospital and the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Vineall said Buller is taking it hard—moping about the house and hardly touching his food.

Mrs. Marie Louise Clark, who arrived by plane from Austria, was ordered by a magistrate to be held in custody for a later court hearing. The prosecution said the watches were contained in a special kind of girdle. "I didn't know what was in the thing," Mrs. Clark retorted.

DOCTOR DIES

'Every Parent Owes Him Great Debt'

Victoria medical fraternity today mourned the passing in Toronto Thursday of Dr. Alan Brown, 73, one of Canada's top pediatricians and co-discoverer, with Dr. Fred Tisdall, of the baby food Pablum.

"Every cent of profit made from this food—and it must have been a sizeable amount—was turned over to the benefit of the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto," a local doctor commented.

"He was a very fine doctor. Every parent in Canada owes him a debt of gratitude."

CITY, SAANICH PLAN NO PROJECTS THIS YEAR

Winter Works Program to Flop Here

Hopes for a heavy winter works program in Greater Victoria received a crushing blow today.

Two municipalities plan no projects in the 1960 part of the six and a half months campaign because of lack of funds.

Their decision took the edge off an announcement by Labor Minister Starr that the program was being advanced. Instead of running from Dec. 1 to April 30, the program will start Oct. 15.

Victoria and Saanich said the extension of the program with the federal government paying 50 per cent of the direct labor bill on approved projects "comes a year too late."

Oak Bay and Esquimalt indicated they will participate in the entire program.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, chairman of Victoria's public works committee, bitterly denounced the federal announcement.

NO WORD

"This year the city's budget closed at the end of April. At that time we had no word of Ottawa's participation or the extent of it. So there can't be any program until next year. There isn't any money budgeted for the work."

Ald. Edgelow also criticized the 50 per cent paid by Ottawa towards municipal projects.

Pointing to last year's winter works program in Victoria (total cost: $61,421), Ald. Edgelow said: "Victoria paid $42,010 or 67 per cent. The provincial government paid $6,410 or 11 per cent and the federal government $12,280 or 22 per cent.

"We paid 67 per cent and the two governments combined paid only 33 per cent.

'PATHETIC'

"Ottawa's participation is pathetic. If they are going to put on the program they should be realistic and accept the whole job—they should pay 50 per cent of the total cost."

The alderman also claimed the federal and provincial governments save money on the projects by stopping welfare payments to unemployed hired specifically for the campaign.

Saanich Reeve George Chatterton agreed that federal plans "are a year late."

"If we had known earlier we could have planned more work for the longer period. All the monies alloted this year were spent before the end of May.

"If Ottawa really wanted to make the campaign effective they should extend financial aid to cover cost of equipment as well as labor."

AFTER JAN. 1

Both Victoria and Saanich said they would likely participate in the program after Jan. 1, using money from the 1961 budget.

Oak Bay Reeve George Murdoch said the federal government couldn't be expected to pay part of the cost of equipment and materials. The municipality will proceed with its scheduled program of about 40 projects.

Esquimalt is the lone municipality which plans to step up its winter works program. It plans to bolster its work force by four men to 24 and will seek funds necessary to take advantage of the earlier start.

A municipal official said Esquimalt undertakes projects such as parks and boulevards involving mostly labor. Last year $50,500 was the total winter works budget with Esquimalt paying 25 per cent.

There is no sensible alternative to
X SOLID GOVERNMENT
X Don't "splinter" your vote -don't jeopardize your job, your security, your future for a mess of political promises!

Imagine the political chaos if "splinters" from other parties weakened our strong, solid, sensible government! Each politician from the other parties would try to put over his pet theories, each minority party would try to make good its pre-election pie-in-the-sky promises.

Good Government is Solid Government — there is no alternative, there is no compromise with the efficient, realistic, proven record of accomplishment!

This election, let's not have a government of splinters. Be sure to vote — but vote solidly sensibly, for a sane government that stands 100% together on the issues and ideals for the good and welfare of all.

Pickets Halt Ferry Run

From Times News Services

VANCOUVER — Operators of the ferry Island Princess said Thursday that union pickets will prevent it from sailing today.

The ferry failed to sail Thursday when two deckhands, members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC), refused to cross an information picket line by the rival Seafarers' International Union (Ind.).

They said they were adhering to established union principle of not crossing legal picket lines.

About 150 passengers were turned back at the Richmond dock of the ferry.

TEEN-AGERS TOLD

'Cheaper To Drink At Home'

A teen-aged girl, her brother and another youth pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Thursday to liquor offences, were told by the court it is cheaper to drink at home.

Fining each of them $20 for being minors in possession of liquor, Deputy Magistrate J. A. Byers said:

"Pretty expensive beer wasn't it? Would it not have been better to have it at home?"

The trio — Constance Lynne Johnston, 18, and William Dayrel Johnston, 19, of 884 Colville, and James Ronald William Leek, 18, of 2624 Wark — were checked by police in a car parked on Prospect Lake Road.

SOMMERS CASE NO 'WIT CH-HUNT'

Election Not Two-Party Fight, Gregory Cautions

NELSON (CP) — Victoria Liberal candidate, George F. Gregory warned here Thursday night at a Liberal meeting that Monday's election should not be regarded as a two-party battle between the CCF and Social Credit.

A voter is showing less than a high degree of integrity if he accepts without question that assertion that it is a choice between Social Credit or CCF," he said.

"I suggest that deception marks the whole pattern of this whole campaign. Do not allow yourselves to be persuaded that the trade union is going 100 per cent for the CCF party.

"There are a great many people in the trade unions who believe as I do that the last thing we want in society is a class society where Social Credit represents the workingman," he said. Such a step would be a backward one, he said.

"As for Attorney-General Robert Bonner calling me "Johnny one-note of the Liberal party," he said, "let me say it with pride if I am going to sound on one note, I am happy and proud that it be a note of integrity."

He criticized the government and the attorney-general's handling of the Sommers' case.

"I am not on a witch hunt. Let us be quick to forgive those who have yielded to temptation and repented. But let us judge harshly those who witnessed and countenanced and defended the falling of one of their number by the wayside, and remained unrepentant."

The Cross-Roads

MR. WALTER GORDON ought to know as much about the problems of this country as any Canadian. His royal commission on Canada's economic prospects was the deepest and widest study of that sort ever undertaken. But now Mr. Gordon adds, as it were, a post script to his famous report, a final conclusion.

His verdict on the current Canadian situation is as simple as it is stark: Either this nation must continue to drift into the economic and political orbit of the United States, losing what is left of its independence, or it must begin at once to reverse this trend.

A good argument, says Mr. Gordon, can be made for each of these alternatives, though for himself he has no hesitation in choosing between them. He is for an independent Canada, not because he feels any antagonism to the United States but because he thinks Canada, as an independent entity, has something useful and unique to contribute to a sick world.

Each of the two alternatives before us, Mr. Gordon says bluntly, will be unpleasant and probably painful.

The complete integration of the Canadian economy with the American, he says, "would bring about a great disruption of Canadian industry and serious unemployment, certainly during an extended period of readjustment and probably longer. And if this was not accompanied by moves in the direction of some sort of political union or affiliation, we might find ourselves in a very difficult position if, at some later date, some new Administration in the United States decided to abrogate the arrangement."

On the other hand, we cannot expect to reverse the present trend and "to regain some of our lost independence without paying some sort of price in terms of a less rapid rise in our living standard though not, I think, of greater unemployment."

This is a price, says Mr. Gordon, that Canadians have always been prepared to pay, ever since Canada became a nation, once the situation was explained to them. One of Canada's chief troubles today is that the situation is not being explained to them by their politicians. For the truth about these things they have to depend upon men like Mr. Gordon and Mr. Coyne who are not seeking votes.

While a case can be made for "faster integration with the United States or the regaining of our independence," Mr. Gordon says, "there is no excuse for failing to face up to the dilemma in which we find ourselves today. To do nothing, to refuse to recognize the situation that confronts us or to admit its implications will lead inevitably to our becoming a more or less helpless satellite of the United States."

To avoid that end, Mr. Gordon warns, we must be prepared to put our affairs in better order, to work hard, to slow down the rate of American investment in our industry, to keep our dollar at a realistic level on the world exchange and, above all, to keep our prices competitive in the world and domestic markets.

Mr. Gordon has spelled out the alternatives before us. He has not spelled out in any detail the means he would use to achieve the alternative of a strong, independent, prosperous nation. It is to be hoped he will do so without delay.

Held at Their Pleasure

MR. BENNETT CONTINUES to tell election campaign audiences that he is giving away nothing to Mr. Wenner-Gren and the Peace River power interests.

But conferring of the right to develop the Peace River is itself a "gift" of incalculable value, for even though it may eventually result in the production of vast supplies of power and the development of a large northern area of the province, it conveys to the licencees a resource from which their profits will ultimately be tremendous and almost endless.

It is impossible to say that Mr. Wenner-Gren and his associates are not being given something of vast value, an asset from which they will derive great wealth with relatively little investment of their own money.

Their jewel of great price lies in the water licence which confers the right to harness and exploit the river. Such a licence is granted subject to certain conditions, and the assurance of the applicant that the conditions will be met.

And it is granted in perpetuity.

The only reason for which the licence can be taken from the holder is for failure to live up to the conditions. Then, on the advice of the Water Comptroller, it may be cancelled. Obviously the granting Government can set the conditions of performance so far within the capabilities of the licencee that there would never be any danger of failure to meet the obligations.

A minimum of work could be carried out over a period of many years; the bare terms of the agreement could be adhered to while development of the territory awaited the pleasure of the licence holder and his assessment of a favorable time to begin the real operations.

In the case of the Peace River, private and foreign interests would hold an invaluable franchise under their control IN PERPETUITY, with consideration only of their own purposes and not of the public welfare, and with unlimited opportunities for stock market profits in the intervening years.

Yet nothing is being given to Mr. Wenner-Gren?

Defend Canadian TV

TELEVISION VIEWERS OF Vancouver are disturbed by interference with American stations as a result of the new transmitter installed on Saturna Island by CHEK-TV in Victoria. Subjected to strong pressures, the Board of Broadcast Governors has been persuaded to hold a public inquiry in Vancouver next Thursday and Friday.

This, in some respects, is a repeat of a similar situation which arose when CHEK-TV went on the air in this city. Technicians demonstrated that the interference with U.S. channels could, in almost all cases, be eliminated by the installation of a simple trap. Within a few months the protests had died away.

The same procedures, of course, may be followed in Vancouver. Having adjusted their sets, mainland viewers then may settle back objectively and ask themselves the simple question: Was the BBG established in order to protect the interests of the Canadian industry, or of Americans who beam strong signals into Canada with the aim of capturing the Canadian market?

A great deal of time, money and effort has been invested by Victoria people in the creation and expansion of CHEK-TV. It is one of the agencies, like the press, which helps knit British Columbia (and Canada) closer together. It is to be hoped that the BBG will stand fast behind the local station, and in so doing, honor its commitment to defend Canadian broadcasting against the onrushing infiltration of a foreign culture.

Facts and Fancies

IN A CAMPAIGN MEETING this week Attorney-General Robert Bonner spoke glowingly of Government aid to higher education, and said that sums totalling $35 million were "under way" for the University of British Columbia.

This was broken down to $10 millions raised by public subscription; $10 million in "matching grants" from the Government; another $10 million direct from the Government; and $5 million earmarked for Canada Council grants.

A questioner in the audience wanted to know what UBC had received, in actual dollars, by way of "matching grants" and other provincial contributions. Mr. Bonner replied that he did not have the figure handy.

The actual figure is $5.2 millions—a far cry from the $35 millions so subtly insinuated by the minister. He might also have told his audience that the per-capita-student-grants by Government to UBC are the lowest of the four western Canadian provinces, a fact revealed to Mr. Bonner and Mr. Peterson in a 1959 brief by the Board of Management of the UBC Alumni Association.

Of the $20 millions promised by the Provincial Government, then, about one-quarter has been turned over to the University. Mr. Bonner's figures were 25 per cent real and 75 per cent in the realm of high hopes.

THE TEEMING MASSES

By B. A. TOBIN

Victoria's Traffic Problem, Old and New

Tobin

THE new traffic plan for the city contains some controversial items and no doubt will be a source of argument for some time to come. It is obvious, however, that some planning must be done for the future. The population increases, the number of cars and trucks increases, the number of houses, buildings and stores to be visited increases. Sooner or later the number and size of streets must increase also, or some new way of using them must be devised.

I don't suppose anybody likes a one-way street much. It always seems to be going the wrong way. And one-way streets must lead to somewhere other than a bottle-neck, or they'll be wasted.

Traffic lights—and half of them are red, holding up traffic—are another solution to the problem of getting this stream of cars over to here and that stream of cars over to there. But they have their limits of usefulness. The moment they delay traffic more than they hasten it, they become a handicap. This happens more often than traffic engineers apparently think.

Tangled Web

The truth is that no perfect traffic plan exists, or can exist. The modern city is too much of a hodge-podge of conflicting interests to be solved by any overall plan.

Pedestrians compete with vehicles and with each other. Cars compete with trucks; slow, sight-seeing drivers with hurrying-home-to-lunch drivers; gotta-go-down-this-street-at-any-cost traffic with drivers who are only cruising around looking for a parking place.

All the moving people and machines are at odds with parked cars and stationary buildings. The buildings themselves have a complicated role. Some are destinations and hence something to be aimed at and parked as close to as possible. Others—the vast majority—are merely lumps in the way, something to be driven-around-in-order-to-get-to-the-other-side-of.

In all the struggling mass, many persons are trying to achieve the same objective as others. But they are trying to do it from opposite directions, at different speeds, by different routes and with varying degrees of urgency.

Worse to Come

When you consider this maelstrom of conflicting purposes the wonder is that anybody gets anywhere at all. And that fear may sooner or later be realized—the confusion will reach a state in which no one will get anywhere.

It is to avoid this situation that the planners plan. Occasionally they are ahead of their times, occasionally behind them. But it is obvious that the facilities of yesterday cannot provide for the needs of tomorrow. Only by straining can they look after the wants of today.

It's not hard to remember some of the traffic conditions of yesterday.

You don't have to be very old to remember when a driver's licence was to be had for the asking—and the payment of a dollar. There were no driver's tests—unless the clerk happened to ask you if you could drive—no rule books to read or forms to fill out.

You could receive fifteen minutes' instruction from a friend in his car, go over to the licence office, pay your dollar and be a driver. On the strength of the 15 minutes' education and the little piece of official cardboard you could go to a drive-yourself agency and take a car out on the roads. You could drive a friend's car or buy and operate one of your own.

It was a do-it-yourself system, but it seemed to work fine. There was much less traffic on the streets in the twenties and even thirties, although already people were noticing that "there's sure a lot more cars around than there were ten years ago."

You could drive in the evening and never meet or pass a car for block after block. You could speed home at midnight with the almost certain knowledge that you'd see no other car close enough to bump you.

The north part of Shelbourne Street, and the "concrete mile" at Colwood were thought of as broad avenues on which it was perfectly safe to "see what she'll do."

There was no parking problem anywhere. You just drove in to the curb and parked. In a day when people had summer cottages at Portage Inlet and a visit to Langford Lake was something to spend a Sunday doing, nobody ever dreamed that someday they'd have to park up by the Royal Theatre in order to go to a bank on Government Street.

Leisurely Ways

The Hillside Junction was just a place you drove past, casting a glance at the horses drinking from the curbside trough.

There wasn't a service station on every city corner. You didn't need them anyway, because you probably had a spare can of gas under the back seat.

You smiled at the stories of old-timers who told of trips over the narrow, gravelled Malahat, because you knew it was tarred nearly all the way now and it no longer took all day to get to Duncan. It took only half a day.

Thirty or forty years have made a difference. Small wonder that the engineers shudder when they think of 1990 or 2000, and get out their 4-H pencils for some hard figuring.

Nasser and Jordan

The Manchester Guardian Weekly

WHENEVER anything wicked happens in the Middle East—and the recent planting of bombs in Amman was wicked—an automatic reaction in Britain is to blame President Nasser.

The circumstantial evidence against him looks at first sight strong. For months now his propagandists have been broadcasting venomous attacks on King Hussein and his Government—attacks which have been answered as venomously from Jordan radio.

The King—"a small piece of treason" to the Arab cause—has been reminded constantly of the violent deaths of his kinsmen King Abdullah, King Feisal II of Iraq, and Prince Abdul Illah, and a like fate is predicted for him.

Among the other crimes with which the "Voice of the Arabs" charges him is that he "defied the Jordanian people and the Arab people when he brought in Hazza Majali, the known British agent, and gave him a whip to terrorise the people."

Mr. Hazza Majali is the Prime Minister who was killed in the explosions last week.

Opposed Policy

In the past week the Jordanian Government has at the Arab League Foreign Ministers' meeting opposed a policy put forward by the United Arab Republic for reviving a Palestinian "entity" and army; a few days before the meeting started a speaker in the "Voice of the Arabs" program said that King Hussein must go if that "entity" was to be achieved.

Moreover, President Nasser is assumed to make a habit of conspiracy, and there is hardly a country in the Middle East from which an Egyptian military attache has not been expelled. The Jordanian Government claims to be always discovering plots against itself which it puts down to President Nasser or to Communists.

Only a month ago it announced that it had prevented an attempt by an emissary from Damascus to assassinate King Hussein.

But a characteristic which all these plots—real or alleged—have in common is that they were unsuccessful. The plots that have really changed the face of the Middle East—apart from President Nasser's own rise to power—took him by surprise as completely as everybody else.

He may have been involved in the abortive Mosul revolt, but he was not in the coup d'etat that overthrew the Iraqi monarchy. Nor was he in President Abboud's coup d'etat in the Sudan, although it was taken for granted that he was behind both these upheavals when the news of them first broke.

Fateful Act

The assassination of King Abdullah in 1951 was yet another fateful act of violence for which he cannot be held responsible. And that piece of private enterprise by disgruntled Palestinians may well be the true precedent for the recent outrage; we shall have to wait and see before blaming anybody.

The population of Jordan is still two thirds Palestinians, and half of these are refugees, many of them out of work. In their frustration a group of them may have blamed the Jordanian Cabinet for thwarting President Nasser's plans to re-create the Palestinian "entity," and decided to take their revenge while it was in session.

Moreover, why should President Nasser want to assassinate the Prime Minister when the ruler of Jordan is King Hussein? This looks like a domestic affair of Jordan, and it is much to be hoped that that is how it will be treated—in Jordan, in Israel, in the UAR, and elsewhere — at least until it is proved otherwise.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

'Once Bitten'

May I through your valued columns, suggest to those who vote on Monday that before they mark their ballot, they pause and think of our disgraceful hospital situation and further our disgusting mental institution situation.

We all know, that if you require entry into either place, you are placed on a waiting list for entry into the sanctum.

Our present government has done little or nothing, to alleviate this situation. However, the Premier assures us that we are better off than other provinces.

To my way of thinking, Mr. Super Suds, has done a putrid job in this respect, as well as many others, and he is not getting his linen clean. Far from it. There are many very discernible stains.

The Liberal government, if elected, will quickly remedy this deplorable situation, and not by using any detergents.

ONCE BITTEN

Let W-G Open Up B.C.

The editorial on the front page of Tuesday evening's edition has certainly proved two things to me:

One, as to who I vote for, and two, to cancel my subscription to your biased and Liberal newspaper.

I well remember the days of the hungry 40's, and the unfulfilled promises made by your favorite political party.

British Columbia will elect the same smart man to build our super highways, bridges, ferrys and schools. I sincerely hope the election will prove to you that all your mud slinging was of no avail. (Let Wenner-Gren open up B.C.)

Thanks, for the opportunity to tell you so!

(MRS.) T. R. MILLER.
3017 Henderson Road.

Thank You, Mr. Coldwell

It was a very kindly gesture on the part of Mr. Coldwell and his party, coming into the Province of British Columbia to tell us exactly what they are going to do if they get into power.

Now we all realize there are just two units in the Sept. 12th election—Labor and Social Credit. Also we all know that if we want a sane and stable government in the Province of British Columbia for the next four years we must vote Social Credit.

G. B.

Some Are Still Hungry

If "Your Social Credit Government" broadcasting their political propaganda all day long over our local stations, has such great concern for those in need, why is it necessary for a free food stall which is so well patronized in Victoria?

There must be something wrong somewhere. If adequate assistance is being given by the Social Credit Government, there should be no need for all the various appeals from private agencies.

'WONDERING?'

Preacher of Morality

It remains to be seen if the general public will endorse the actions of the Attorney General in the Sommers case. There is no question every effort was made to cover up and keep it from the public.

It now remains to be seen if the public will endorse the action of those who did everything in their power to keep it from the public's attention.

DENNIS H. CHIVERS.

Time for a Change

Mr. Bennett says Socreds did more than Governor Douglas. How inconsistent. Did Governor Douglas need a high school that would seat 600 yougsters? etc., etc., etc.

The Socreds' bombastic boasting really shows up their incompetence. When government gets bigger than the governed it's time for a change.

SECOND LOOKER

Could Use Private Schools

Being a long time Social Crediter I too do not like the school tax on homes. But I do know that under Social Credit all will be able and willing to pay for the education they desire.

Many who use public education now could make use of private schools. In the days to come when Credit is freed to meet necessities teachers will have more of spirit and character to give.

Freedom's our watch word.

DENNIS THE MENACE

'SAVE ME THE GRASS, MR. WILSON! I GOT A DEAL ON FOR SOME RABBITS!'

From Our Files

Sept. 9, 1900 — Five Chinese fell 20 feet to the pavement in Chinatown here last night when a balustrade gave way. One man was killed and another badly injured.

Sept. 9, 1920 — An absolute ban on Sunday shooting and hunting in B.C. is the aim of Lord's Day Alliance members, and the premier is being asked to implement the suggestion.

Sept. 9, 1940 — Work valued at close to $500,000 will shortly be started at the Esquimalt naval dockyard, Ottawa public works department has announced.

Election Promises

It is rather amusing to study the ideas of our different political party leaders as election propaganda and see how little they think of justice and fairness in their proposals.

1. We will remove all the School taxes from all homes and farms. We can do that without applying any new taxes. Can you? I do not think you can, unless you drop some other necessary or desirable services.

And where is the justice in relieving the man who can afford to live in a $50,000 home, ten times as much as the poor man who must content himself with a $5,000 home?

2. The Contingent debt for ferries, bridges. Of course the people must pay it. But suppose we let some private corporation finance and build and operate them. Is it not the very same people who will have to pay for it and when they have paid for it will they own any part of it? No they will not. But under the toll idea these people will at least own an equity in it.

3. I do not believe in state socialism though I studied it carefully for about five years 50 years ago. From that study I admit that if people were true socialist at heart, it would be the ideal state. But then as now the driving force was and is, what I can get out of it at the expense of someone else.

But I do believe that it is desirable that the government should own and operate communications, transportation and power, in order to eliminate some of the wasteful duplication.

Kindly give this a little serious thought before you mark your ballot.

Victimized

Why vote for Mr. Bennett?

He has already raised your taxes with insatiable craving for money and he will continue to do so each year.

The older homes of the old-age pensioners were assessed a higher percentage than the new homes in the last assessment upon his instructions and will be increased each year as indicated by a city official.

My taxes have been already more than doubled and I have been compelled to sell my old home.

Bridges and roads may be necessary, but why victimize old retired people?

Hotels Go Up—With Prices

Reyburn

LONDON—It is stating the obvious to say that London's shortage of hotel accommodation is acute. Visitors from Canada know this only too well, often finding themselves having to move into hotels well off the beaten track.

Twice last week I got calls from Canadian friends staying in hotels I'd never even heard of.

Ralph Lepper of the Ed Provan store in Toronto was in one hidden away behind Pall Mall.

And when I set off to call on Richard Malone, Winnipeg newspaper boss, my taxi driver confessed ignorance of the hotel he was staying at, likewise three policemen in succession said they'd never heard tell of it.

* * *

But soon it's going to be a lot easier for overseas visitors and British provincials to get an hotel room in this town.

There's a big hole at the lower end of Park Lane which is the start of a lofty new hotel—the Hilton, 27 stories high, 530 rooms. And it is just one of 17 that are either being built or planned for completion within the next two to three years.

On Russell Square up goes the President, a 450-roomer. On Portman Square a yet unnamed 28-floor, 600-room job. On Sloane Street the Carlton Towers will have 330 rooms. Etc., etc.

* * *

By the end of 1963 London will have more than 5,000 new hotel rooms, with an average of 300 per hotel.

For this country, that's quite revolutionary. A Small Hotel could well be Britain's theme song. Ninety per cent of hotel accommodation in the U.K. has hitherto been in hotels of under 100 rooms. None of these new ones going up comes into that category.

Will this easing of the demand for hotel rooms mean a lowering in cost to visitors? Quite the contrary. The advent of all these new hotels will jack up the prices all round.

With hotel buildings such an expensive proposition these days, the newcomers must make higher charges and the other hotels will feel bound to follow suit if only for prestige.

* * *

Beer facts, from a survey made by the Consumers' Association: Britain has 300 brewers, making no fewer than 4,000 different brews. Britishers consume it at a rate of 18 gallons a year per head of population.

Not that all of it is very potent. It ranges in alcoholic strength from 2.4 per cent to a top of 8.4. How that compares to Canadian I don't know, but I do know that British ex-servicemen who had Canadian beer in the Mediterranean still rave to me about "Black Horse—the best beer we ever tasted."

TODAY'S BEST FROM EUROPE

FOR PILOT:

Crime Aboard Plane Offers Problems

QUEBEC (CP)—The problems of a pilot acting as a policeman were discussed Thursday by the Canadian Bar Association.

The question was raised at the association's annual convention in a paper prepared by Ray Williams of Vancouver, and Scott Wright of Winnipeg, and presented to the air law section of the meeting.

The report of the two western lawyers noted:

"If a crime were committed on board such aircraft during its flight to a foreign country, the pilot, while he has authority to arrest the culprit, is met with a practical problem of what to do with the offender after landing in the foreign country.

COULD WALK AWAY

"It appears that unless the pilot is prepared to hold such offender prisoner until he can be reconveyed to Canada, the man could walk away with impunity.

"Also a pilot's authority to hold a person in a foreign country could be seriously challenged as he has no authority as a peace officer outside of Canada."

The answer, as seen by the presenters of the paper, lies in the application of international law.

The report added:

"The most satisfactory way to legislate in regard to crimes on board aircraft and avoid any jurisdiction conflicts that may arise between states is by international agreement, and it is to be hoped that the International Civil Aviation Organization will soon come forth with such an agreement."

PAROLE BOARD REJECTS BID BY SOMMERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A parole application for former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers, serving a five-year term for bribery and conspiracy, has been turned down by the National Parole Board.

Regional director, R. Kyle Stevenson, said here Thursday the application would be reviewed again in the spring. Also denied parole was H. Wilson Gray, convicted with Sommers.

Entry Passes Needed for East Berlin

BERLIN (Reuters) — West German citizens needed special passes to enter East Berlin today as East Germany clamped new restrictions on travel into their sector of the divided city.

The restrictions came into effect at midnight—just four days after the East Germans had lifted a five-day ban on West Germans travelling to East Berlin.

East German police at the Brandenburg gate, one of the main crossing points between East and West Berlin, today were issuing West Germans with passes valid only for 12 hours.

Traffic was still flowing freely, however, on the Autobahn linking West Germany with West Berlin, 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain. East German border guards were apparently still waiting for instructions on how to apply the new restrictions.

The new restrictions were seen here as part of an organized campaign to see how far the Communist regime could go before the West would impose countermeasures.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt urged residents to remain calm.

"The climax of this arbitrary crisis has not yet been reached," he said. "The present measures are only part of a new phase with which the powers responsible for the security of Berlin will have to deal."

West Germany's vice-chancellor, Ludwig Erhard, described the new move as "a provocation not only to the Germans but to the whole Western world."

The restrictions required all West Germans to obtain permits from East German police when entering East Berlin. Permits good for three months will be issued to persons making frequent trips to the Communist sector of the city, the East Germans said.

Thursday's announcement did not mention a time limit.

Prisoners Faced Death

By HENDERSON GALL

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters)—I have just arrived here from Bakwanga, eastern Congo, where I spent three hours in the custody of Congolese troops, with death seeming unpleasantly close, before being released by the United Nations.

We were labelled "Belgian spies," "Flemish" and told we would be shot. Our pilot, Alan Kearns of Northern Rhodesia, was beaten on the head, and we all looked down big rifle barrels of soldiers for long, long minutes.

Two other British reporters and myself and our pilot flew to the battlefield of Bakwanga last Friday.

We made a quick trip round the town and were ready to leave.

Then we were arrested. We were bundled into a truck under armed escort and taken to a military camp.

A sergeant-major said to us: "You may say you are British journalists, but I think you are Belgian spies. You will be taken to Lulubourg where you will be shot."

Another soldier entered and hit Alan Kearns, standing next to me, on the head with a wooden baton.

Kearns hardly moved. The soldier tried to hit him again.

Suddenly there were shouts outside. The sergeant-major and the commandant announced we would be taken to the United Nations and placed under their protection.

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Jack Frost Is Nipping the Air

Jack

The last few nights, under clear skies and a brilliant moon, have been quite chilly around our way, and in other districts where we have been visiting.

The grass thermometer, which is in a standard mount two inches above grass level, has given three readings of 32 degrees F. in the past week. No effect has been noticed on the plants, for it is likely that the temperature dip takes place for a short period; possibly 30 minutes just at sunrise.

But it is a warning to all gardeners who dwell in low lying areas to have something in readiness to throw over tender plants if the temperature should go any lower.

A damaging frost at this time of year is not unusual. The annoying part is that we may not have another until October, and all that good growing weather is wasted if the tender plants are nipped now.

It takes very little to protect plants from this type of frost, which is caused by the rapid loss of heat from the soil to the cooler air above. Anything which will impede this flow will be effective.

Burlap, cardboard or plastic sheets stretched above the plants on stakes, acts the same as a covering of low clouds in the sky. Cartons, newspapers, sacks, five-gallon cans, or large pots may be set over individual plants.

When suitable material is prepared in advance and placed ready, it will take but a few minutes to cover plants before bedtime if outdoor thermometers (not attached to the house) reads around 40 degrees F.

'MUNICIPALITIES ON BREAD-LINE'

Alsbury Goes Swinging In Support of Murison

Mayor Tom Alsbury of Vancouver broke his political independence here Thursday night in a special plea for a new municipal deal and support for Conservative Gen. C. A. P. Murison.

Mayor Alsbury, who claimed to be independent in politics, was the key speaker at a Greater Victoria all-candidate Conservative rally in the Crystal Garden.

He said he came especially to support Gen. Murison, champion of a new municipal-provincial finance scheme.

Premier Bennett "hasn't got much time left" to make a change, said Mayor Alsbury.

He challenged the premier to show the public how the Social Credit government is giving B.C. municipalities the best deal in Canada, as he claims.

"It's not enough to claim this province is debt-free if local governments are debt-ridden," said Mayor Alsbury.

'They're Starved'

Municipalities "are on the bread line, starved of the tax resources to provide services people must have."

"The time has come for a new approach and a new deal," he said. "If the government does not do something drastic we are in for serious times."

Property taxes have become "the work horses" in providing services of all kinds. Gen. Murison's plan — adopted by the Conservative party — calls for all services to people paid by province and services to property paid by property-owners.

Mr. Alsbury said the local government is "the main street" of democracy, and as such must be preserved.

Whole New Look

"There must be a complete re-assessment of responsibilities of each level of government, then re-allottment of taxing powers that enables each to stand on its own feet."

One of the first actions should be greater provincial aid to schools. It is now an average of 50 per cent of operating costs.

Mayor Alsbury said in 1952, before the Social Credit government came to power, the province paid Vancouver 46 per cent of its school costs.

Now it pays 36 per cent.

"It should bear 100 per cent of everybody's. I say at least we should start moving in that direction of them taking over a larger share—60 or 70 per cent."

He added: "Education of a child should not depend on the wealth or poverty of the community in which its parents reside. It's a provincial responsibility under the British North America Act."

Three-Level Talks

He called for a three-level conference to set up the new financial order.

He cited a number of "star witnesses," including the Gordon Economic Commission and "every premier in Canada" as well as Mr. Bennett.

Premier Bennett told the federal-provincial meeting in Ottawa this year its meetings should be open to the press.

Mayor Alsbury invited the premier to open a provincial-municipal meeting to the press to show how B.C. is getting "the best deal in Canada."

The premier has made good briefs to Ottawa on municipal plight "and I agree with him," said Mayor Alsbury.

"But it is not enough just to diagnose a disease. You've got to prescribe a remedy."

Gen. Murison, he said, has done that and deserves a chance to take it into the legislature as an elected member.

MAYOR ALSBURY

BCE Chief Scores CCF 'Trickery'

BRIDGE RIVER, B.C. (CP) —The CCF descended to trickery in saying public power rates were automatically the cheapest, Dal Grauer, B.C. Electric president said here Thursday.

Without specifically naming the CCF, he said:

"We have been recently subjected to a highly organized and utterly misinformed series of attacks because of allegedly high electric rates.

"One politilcal party has descended to such trickery as circulating bogus electric bills allegdly comparing Vancouver rates with the three lowest-rate cities in Canada."

An honest person would compare the rates across Canada, he said in an address here at the opening of BCE's No. 2 power plant.

The lowest rates in Canada are those of the investor-owned Gatineau Power Co., serving Hull, Que., the highest are charged by the publicly-owned system in New Brunswick.

B.C. is in the middle position among provinces.

"In view of the statements made by political visitors from Saskatchewan it is interesting to note that the investor-owned National Light and Power Co., service at Moose Jaw had lower rates than the government-owned Saskatchewan Power Corp.

"Perhaps this embarrassing comparison was the reason why it was bought out by the Saskatchewan government this spring."

Grauer said the type of ownership was not a relevant factor in power costs. Instead such factors as the type of river or lake system, length of transmission lines, labor costs and density of customers govern the cost.

HOMEOWNERS' GRANT

'They Take It, Then Return It'

The $50 homeowners' grant may be increased, it was predicted Thursday night, but the homeowners will have to pay for the privilege.

Victoria Conservative candidate, Maj.-Gen. C. A. P. Murison, said the Social Credit government is paying "enormous sums" toward education costs "and homeowners and property owners are matching the government's contribution dollar for dollar."

The government "has to take money from you first before it can give it back to you," he told the Crystal Garden all-Conservative candidates' rally.

The government ignores the fact that it has fallen from second to fourth place in percentage of provincial revenue allocated for schools.

Unconditional grants to Victoria totalled $14 million in 1954, he said. They now total $11 million.

The school bill was $27 million in 1954; now it is $57 million.

Each Greater Victoria candidate spoke for four minutes.

T. H. CRESSY, Victoria: "When it comes to bonuses and gimmicks, you usually find the price has been increased to make up for the prize."

VICTOR VIRGIN, Saanich: Social Crediter Newton Steacy is "the most apathetic, inept minister of agriculture that ever sat in that chair."

CLIVE CAMPBELL, Victoria: Introduced as the man fired from his post of deputy public works minister, "I'll be delighted to continue that public service."

JAMES BRYANT, Esquimalt: The Conservatives will get labor and management to sit down together for "an honest effort for a new labor code."

JAMES GEORGE, Oak Bay: "We must put truth in the legislature and honor will follow."

BCE Clerks Oppose CCF

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two B.C. locals of the Office Employees International Union (CLC) issued a statement Thursday declaring their opposition to CCF plans to take over B.C. Electric Company.

Locals 300 an 378, whose members are employed by B.C. Electric and International Power and Engineering Consultants Limited, said they are "opposed to any government placing our employer under public ownership, when government operation does not provide for the same bargaining rights enjoyed by employees in private industry."

They said they enjoy excellent relations with their employers, do not support any particular political party, and oppose the CCF-Labor merger.

"I'm Voting for the First Time ...and I'm Voting Social Credit"

"Like most fellows and girls who are nineteen, I'm looking forward to voting for the first time. And I've been following pretty closely what the various party leaders and candidates are saying—and promising. Personally, I'm impressed with what the Social Credit Government has done since it took office—in roads, bridges, schools and in generally making B.C. a better place to live. Naturally I'm interested in being able to get a good job. I think Social Credit Government is doing its best to create employment by encouraging more industries to come here. Another thing that appeals to me is the Social Credit Government's interest in recreational facilities in B.C. Anyone who's seen some of the modern campsites will know what I mean. I like the way they get things done so I'm voting Social Credit on September 12."

'BUILT-IN OPPOSITION'

He Blasts Off During Caucus

Social Credit backbenchers were more effective as an "opposition" in caucus than the official opposition in the legislature, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant said Thursday night.

He addressed 18 people in support of Saanich Social Credit candidate John Tisdalle at a meeting in St. Martin's-in-theFields Hall.

"Mr. Tisdalle is a good, outspoken member," said Mr. Chant. "He speaks his mind and that's a good thing.

"SAY THEIR PIECE"

"Sometimes you hear it said a government needs an opposition. Well, Mr. Tisdalle has opposed some things and there have been others too. The backbenchers, in caucus, really say their piece and say what they think is right or wrong.

"And I want to tell you it's much more effective than the opposition in the House which 90 per cent of the time, and sometimes oftener, offers only destructive criticism."

Mr. Tisdalle later told the meeting that Mr. Chant was a minister who was receptive to backbenchers' problems "and we certainly talk straight from the shoulder to our cabinet ministers."

Mr. Chant said Social Credit had spent about $40,000,000 on capital works in Victoria — "only yesterday we opened the final bids on the new Law Courts and awarded the contract to a local firm" during its eight years in office.

"If there ever has been a government that has done as much or better, then we'd like to hear of it."

Mr. Chant said Social Credit government projects had "put scores of millions of dollars into pay cheques" and had created considerable employment.

"OPEN THE GATES"

He said if voters split ballots among the free enterprise parties, "then you will open the gates to Socialism, which inescapably leades to regimentation."

Mr. Chant said Social Credit had a dynamic and sound economic policy which could combat Socialism. He denied suggestions that the new government ferry system "is aping Socialism."

In reply to a question as to whether the cabinet had any responsibility in the handling of the Sommers' case, Mr. Chant said "it was a matter for the attorney-general and not necessarily the cabinet."

"MEASLY"

Mr. Tisdalle said power policies proposed by the CCF "would increase the contingent liabilities to $4,000,000,000 or more and then they try to shame the people into voting against the government because there's a measly $500,000,000 of indirect debt."

He said rank and file union members and CCFers were "disillusioned and opposed to the labor bosses-CCF merger."

Grain Firm Seeks $298,000 Damages

MONTREAL (CP) — Cargill Grain Co. Limited of Winnipeg has filed a $298,000 action against the Provident Assurance Company of Montreal in connection with the collapse of a grain elevator tower at Baie Comeau, Que., last year.

The tower at the site of Canada's newest and largest grain elevator was being built by Cobra Industries of Quebec City when it collopsed Oct. 28, 1959.

AJAX, Ont. (CP) — Ontario will spend an estimated $2,500,000,000 in the next 20 years to eliminate water pollution caused by carelessness since the province's early days, Premier Frost said Thursday.

GOLDEN VOICE of Jussi Bjorling was stilled forever today when the world-famous operatic tenor died at his home in Sweden's Stockholm Island at the age of 49. 'SLAVE LABOR' IN SASK. SAYS WICKS

COQUITLAM (CP) — Saskatchewan has "practically slave labor" compared with British Columbia.

Only 5 per cent of Saskatchewan's population are union members, he told an election rally here. t

Mr. Wicks said Saskatchewan, with no laws restricting hours of work, has a work week close to 56 hours, while British Columbia's is 44. The average industrial wage there was 58 cents an hour less than in B.C., and the highest base rate in the Saskatchewan lumber industry was $1.44 an hour compared with B.C.'s $2.82.

HE'S A DIFFERENT MAN NOW, SAYS MACFARLANE

Murdoch 'Yes Man to Cabinet'

Oak Bay Reeve George Murdoch is a "yes" man for the British Columbia cabinet, Alan Macfarlane, Liberal nominee for Oak Bay, charged Thursday.

"He donned a coat of a different hue . . . and joined Social Credit a few months ago," he said.

"This man," said Mr. Macfarlane, addressing a packed Oak Bay municipal hall—"was an outspoken critic of Social Credit and all its works."

This had since been reversed.

Even at Social Credit headquarters, said Mr. Macfarlane, "up the street" depicting the glories of "Bennettism" via signs and posters, reference to Mr. Murdoch is somewhat lacking.

"He is lost in this maze."

Mr. Murdoch, he said—without mentioning his name—had in the past criticized Social Credit for its "miserable" treatment of municipalities.

He also criticized the homeowners' grant and had stated it was a "rotten" deal the government had given municipalities.

NEVER HEARD OF IT

Mr. Macfarlane mentioned specifically "the man" who supported the UBCM brief on removal of school costs from homeowners, "and who now acts as if he never heard of the idea, and who said . . . in Cadboro Bay, 'it wouldn't work'."

He said Mr. Murdoch refused to attend an all-candidates' meeting in Oak Bay. He refuses to face the electorate unless supported by at least one cabinet minister and another Social Credit candidate, the Liberal candidate said.

"One can't help wondering," he said, "if we aren't seeing a perfect illustration of government by cabinet."

Three cabinet ministers had appeared in Oak Bay this week to tell the people the benefits of the government, he said.

Mr. Murdoch, he maintained, "like other Social Credit backbenchers (if elected) is expected to be a 'yes' man in the Legislature.

Dr. A. E. Trottier, speaking in support of the Liberal candidate, said hospitals are still in the dark about the provincial government's recently announced plan for chronic hospital care.

"Even if people are eligible, there are no empty beds to accommodate them," he said.

CCF LEADER NO FARMER?

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) — Agriculture Minister Steacy told a political rally here on Thursday that CCF leader Robert Strachan takes no interest in British Columbia's agricultural problems. "I don't believe he knows a heifer from a steer," said Mr. Steacy.

Industry-Scale Salaries Asked for Civil Servants

B.C. civil servants should be paid wages comparable with those in industry, Victoria Liberal candidate Geoffrey Edgelow said Thursday night.

"If we don't pay them better we shall lose the best of our civil servants and be left with second-rate employees," Ald. Edgelow told a meeting in View Royal Community Hall.

He was speaking in support of Esquimalt candidate George Whittaker.

Ald. Edgelow said his fellow candidate, George Gregory, who was an MLA in the last legislature, had tried four times to bring in a bill giving arbitration rights to civil servants.

"Our civil servants should not be treated as second-class citizens," Ald. Edgelow declared.

He said the Liberals believe the provincial government should pay taxes on its property in Victoria as the federal government does.

"The federal government pays $176,000 a year in taxes on its buildings in Victoria and the provincial government should pay $279,000."

$300,000 DOWN

Since 1954 the provincial government had spent $314,288 in the city in lieu of taxes through the Capital Improvement District Commission.

Oak Bay had received $250,000; Saanich $36,000 and Esquimalt $14,000.

Ald. Edgelow said the Social Credit government in its election folder mentioned a grant to the city of $475,796 in 1960.

"In 1954 the grant was $752,313, so they have dropped nearly $300,000 since then."

Speaking of the government's $50 home owner grant, Ald. Edgelow said the Liberal party, if elected, would not necessarily make any adjustments to this grant.

"At the same time," he added, "there is no assurance on the part of the present government that the homeowner grant will be continued as at present."

Ald. Edgelow said the Liberals favored a "new deal" for old age pensioners, adding that while the present government has raised its supplementary allowance to pensioners it has not raised the maximum income figure.

This meant that a single person could not have more than $960 a year in order to qualify for the old-age pension. The maximum for a married couple was $1,620 a year including five per cent of the value of their home.

M. J. FOLEY:

Nationwide Bid to Gain New Markets

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — A nation-wide effort to bring Canada more world markets for her products was called for here by M. J. Foley, president of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Limited of Vancouver.

Mr. Foley challenged the use of tariffs and artificial subsidies to protect Canadian industries that had "lost out to the fair competition of another trading nation." He asked for new incentives to lead individuals to back Canada's economic development with their own savings.

Addressing the summer meeting of the technical section, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, Mr. Foley said too much productive capacity exists in most basic industries in Canada. Many of them have become high-cost marginal producers in world markets.

Canadians must analyze their economy, he said. They must rceognize "that the high standard of living which we have reached on this continent is what the economists call a high level of consumption.

"But no nation can for long consume more than it produces.

"The amount of prosperity we enjoy in the future will therefore depend entirely on our degree of success in producing what the world wants to buy from us, rather than from some other country."

Everyone pays tribute to competition as the basis of the free world's system but not everyone has the strength of mind to go along with the idea once he begins to slip behind in the competitive struggle, Mr. Foley said.

'Big Lie Theory' At Work—Bruch

Opposition cries of "giveaway" in northern B.C. belong to the "theory of the big lie," Esquimalt Socred candidate Herbert Bruch said at a campaign meeting Thursday night.

"If you tell it often enough and loud enough, somebody is going to believe it," Mr. Bruch told 30 listeners at Fraser Street Hall, Esquimalt.

He referred to criticism of the Wenner-Gren development in northern B.C.

'IT'S FOOLISH'

Denying that anything had been given away to Wenner-Gren, the speaker said: "It is not only unfair to blame one man, it is foolish."

He said a complex of other companies is involved in northern development.

Whereas Wenner-Gren interests had been granted 450 mineral claims in the north, "thousands" of claims by other interests had been granted, he said.

Furthermore, no timber rights had yet been given, and water rights are still in the process of application.

He said that power, which Wenner-Gren proposes to develop on the Peace River, will be required along with Columbia River power—"at least six years away"—to form a grid system of electrical energy in B.C.

Industrial expansion required for the provincial economy will be impossible without such power, he said.

But governments have been remiss, he said, in failing to impose restrictions on primary exports and thus encourage local secondary industry with local investment.

The 80 per cent control of Canadian economy by U.S. interests is "not necessarily completely harmless, but a poor position to be in. As soon as things tighten up, as soon as they catch cold, we're the ones who have to sneeze," Mr. Bruch said.

Diversification of foreign investment would improve this position, the speaker indicated, using the U.S., United Kingdom "and even Sweden," for example.

"You can't take a damsite back to Sweden," he said in a further reference to "giveaway."

BASIC FACTS ABOUT THE
B. C. ELECTRIC

We hope you will read these plain facts and think about them. They are not statements of position or propaganda. They are no more and no less than the simple truth.

Fact No. 1 —B.C.E. electric rates for homes are 20% below the average in Canada and the U.S. Rates in individual cities elsewhere are higher or lower than ours depending upon such things as the type of river and lake system available for hydro development, the length of transmission lines and whether or not they must travel over a mountainous terrain, and density of population.

Fact No. 2 —B.C.E. electric rates for bulk industrial use are the lowest now offered in Canada. B.C.E. industrial rates generally are below the average for Canada.

Fact No. 3 —Long-range planning by B.C.E. has kept an ample supply of power available to our customers at all times—even in the early post-war period when regions in Ontario and the Pacific Northwest states suffered "brownouts" and rationing.

Fact No. 4 —For all types of customer the average price paid by B.C. Electric customers is lower than that paid by Saskatchewan customers:

	B.C.E. Average Cost Per Kilowatt Hour	Saskatchewan Average Cost Per Kilowatt Hour
Residential	2.19c	3.32c
Commercial	2.53c	4.09c
Industrial	1.13c	2.05c
Transmission	.37c	—
Street Lighting	2.10c	3.47c
Overall Average Rate	1.82c	2.99c

Fact No. 5 —The following communities have joined the B.C. Electric system since the end of the war. In every case the standards of service were rapidly improved and—without exception—rates were immediately and substantially reduced . . . from 25% to 46%:

SECHELT PENINSULA

Fact No. 6 —B.C.E. is a business-managed firm operating under strict regulation by Provincial statute but free from political interference.

Fact No. 7 —B.C.E. is respected by investors throughout Canada and the world, and is therefore able to bring into British Columbia large sums of needed capital essential to the creation of more jobs and wider development in this Province.

Fisher Wins Sixth in Row For Baltimore

By UP International

Jack Fisher has Baltimore zeroed-in on the American League pennant with his current pitching string of three straight shutouts.

Fisher, a 21-year-old righthander who had a doubtful status after last season's 1-6 record, won his sixth straight and 12th of the year Thursday night by whitewashing the Cleveland Indians, 9-0.

The victory raised the Orioles' lead to 1½ games over the second-place New York Yankees, who dropped a 5-4 decision to Chicago. It also marked the 48th of 81 Baltimore triumphs turned in by Paul Richards' starting "Kiddie Korps." In addition to Fisher, Chuck Estrada has 14, Milt Pappas 13 and Steve Barber 9.

Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, who has almost as many major league seasons under his belt as the average age of the Baltimore pitching youngsters, kept the Braves' flickering hopes alive in the National League as they defeated San Francisco, 9-4.

SIX WITH PIRATES

Milwaukee climbed into a virtual tie with the idle St. Louis Cardinals for second place, six games behind league leading Pittsburgh. Manager Charley Dressen, who won't be counted out "as long as there's a chance" is pointing for the six games remaining with the Pirates.

In other National League encounters, Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati, 7-4, and Chicago edged Philadelphia, 2-1.

Washington shut out Kansas City, 7-0, and Boston clipped Detroit, 6-1, in other American League action.

Baltimore scored all its runs in the seventh inning to beat Cleveland. Gene Woodling, the 38-year-old outfielder who balances the Oriole age roster perfectly, belted a three-run homer to lead the attack. Marv Breeding chipped in with a bases-loaded triple and Jackie Brandt drove in two more with one of his three hits in the game.

KLU BACK IN ACTION

Ted Kluszewski, starting his first game for Chicago since July 4, drove in three runs with two singles and a double as the third place White Sox closed to within three games of the Yankees. Gene Freese started a four-run Chisox uprising in the seventh with his 15th homer. Hector Lopez hit two for New York and Roger Maris earned his 36th with an inside-the-park blast. Russ Kemmerer won his 11th game and Luis Arroyo lost his first for the Yankees after winning four in a row.

Milwaukee utilized four home runs — Eddie Mathews' 34th and 35th, Hank Aaron's 35th and Spahn's third — to beat the Giants. Spahn's smash lengthened the all-time record he holds for NL home run hitting pitchers to 26. The victory was the 18th of the year for the 39-year-old southpaw and 285th of his career. Bob Schmidt homered for San Francisco as Mike McCormick took his 11th loss.

NO. 27 FOR TED

Ted Williams hit his 27th homer and 519th of his career to overwhelm Detroit. His perfect day at the place, three for three, raised his batting average to .320. Vic Wertz doubled home two Boston runs in the seventh to give Tom Brewer his 10th win.

Doug Proves the Point With Four-Goal Effort

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A year ago work prevented Doug Wallsmith travelling east with New Westminster Salmonbellies in search of their first Canadian junior lacrosse championship.

The Salmonbellies lost the best-of-seven Minto Cup series to Brampton 4-2, and many said Wallsmith was the missing link.

He drove the point home Thursday night, pacing Salmonbellies to a 16-10 victory over Whitby Red Wings in the opening game of the 1960 junior final with four goals and an assist.

The outburst increased Wallsmith's six-game playoff total to 25 goals, 10 fewer than the 20-year-old forward scored in 19 regular-season games.

GOALIES SHINE

Also shining in the wide-open game were goaltenders Bob McCready of Whitby and Salmonbellies' Howie Smith and Whitby forwards Terry Davis and Bryan Gibson.

McCready was under close scrutiny because of his scoring total of 21 points in 20 games. He wasted little time showing 1,120 fans how he piled up the points, stopping a shot and sending Gibson away free on a long clearing pass for the first goal 37 seconds after the opening whistle. He fired a scoring pass to Gibson again in the third quarter.

When McCready wasn't roaming—several times he led rushes into the New Westminster zone—he found time to turn aside 37 shots.

Gibson, who gave up track training and a possible chance to make Canada's Olympic team, scored three goals and kept the Red Wings in the game in the early going. Davis took over in the second half and finished with four goals.

First Soccer Battles To Aid Players' Fund

The wraps on the new soccer season come off Saturday.

The McGavin Cup knockout competition, the Victoria and District Football League's pre-season tournament, gets under way with a doubleheader at Royal Athletic Park.

Ten of the league's 12 teams have entered the event, staged annually to boost the loop's injured players' fund.

Canadian Scottish and Heaney's, who meet at 1 p.m., will get the ball rolling. Gorge Hotel and Navy meet in the second game at 2.45 p.m.

Play continues Sunday with another twin-bill offering at Heywood Avenue Park and a single attraction between Brodies and Esquimalt at Topaz Avenue Park. Heywood's first game, between Evcoes and Vic West, starts at 1 p.m., while Kickers take on Thistles at 2.45.

'Quiet' Reds Celebrate —Margin Only Question

Russians Clinch Team Title But U.S. Star Games Hero

(From Times News Services)

ROME—Russia goes out Saturday to wrap up its unofficial team triumph in the 17th Olympic Games.

Heading into today's competition with a 618-511½ point lead over the United States, the powerful Soviet team appeared unstoppable and the only question seemed to be what its final margin would be.

Nikolai Romanov, the Soviet Olympic delegation chief, admitted as much during a champagne victory party Thursday night although most Russian officials were restrained. Their attitude was of quiet confidence.

"Only an unforeseen turn of events can hurt us now," he said. "We have gymnastics next and we can see several gold medals there."

The Russian proved a good prophet when Margarita Nikolaeva of the Soviet Union picked up the 35th gold medal for her country by winning the long horse event in women's gymnastic competition—one of the first events completed today.

Two other Russian girls finished second and third to add to the country's impressive point total.

The U.S. kept pace in the gold medal race, winning their 33rd when Bill McMillan captured the rapid-fire pistol shooting event in a dramatic shootoff with Alex Zabelin of Russia and Pentti Linnosvuo of Finland.

TRAP CHAMP

In other events completed today, Ion Dumitrescu of Romania won the gold medal in clay pigeon shooting, scoring 192x200. Galliano Rossini of Italy, 191, was second, and Sergey Kalinin of Russia, third, 190.

Canada's hopes for a second Games' medal took a rise when Ed Warner of Lennoxville, Que., led a field of 85 with 386x400 in the small-bore rifle prone position competition's elimination rounds.

Canadian horsemen, however, didn't fare as well.

Both Tom Gaylord of Gormley, Ont., and Brian Herbinson of King, Ont., were eliminated from the 34.5-kilometre (21½-mile) endurance test of the three-day equestrian events.

It was a gruelling event in which an Australian rider was injured and a Romanian horse had to be destroyed.

Riders described the course as "murderous."

Many other of the 73 competitors were eliminated in the first hours of the severe test because of spills, refusals by the horses at obstacles or for accumulating too many penalty points.

With several hours of competition remaining, only France and Great Britain seemed to have a chance for the team title. Ten of the 18 teams in the event had lost two or more of their four riders by elimination. At least three riders must finish the course to be eligible for the team championship.

Russian athletes dominated Thursday's diversified program, but a tall Negro girl from the States emerged as the individual star of the 1960 Games.

ALL-TIME GREAT

Wilma Rudolph, 20-year-old Tennessee college student who couldn't walk as a child because of polio, entered the select class of all-time Olympic greats when she anchored the American team to victory in the women's 400-metre relay run for her third gold medal of the current games.

Wilma, who previously had won the women's 100 and 200-metre sprints, wasn't too happy, however. Her boy friend, Californian Ray Norton, had run outside his zone of limitation in taking the baton in the men's 400-metre relay and the American foursome was disqualified after it had appeared to have won the event.

The Russians grabbed eight of the 13 gold medals offered on Thursday's agenda — a weightlifter capturing the last one in a battle with an American that began Thursday night and extended into the early hours of this morning.

UBC Coach Blasts Canadians

VANCOUVER (CP) — University of British Columbia rowing coach Frank Read arrived home from the Olympic Games Thursday and said his oarsmen were the only Canadian athletes who were prepared for the international competition.

Read charged that many of Canada's athletes were in Rome "just for a ball."

The veteran coach pushed the UBC eight to a second-place silver medal after only four month's hard training. The crew has won Canada's only medal in the games to date.

"It doesn't reflect much credit on the rest of Canada," said Read. "We seem to place no value at all on developing our athletes."

"Unless this country wakes up, we'll be completely out," said Read who praised the dedicated approach toward sport by European countries.

"It's amazing what the Europeans are doing," he said. "The U.S. got many an eye-opener this time."

I'm the Goat Says Sad Ray

(From Times News Services)

ROME—"I can't do anything right," said Ray Norton dejectedly. "First I run to slow, then I run too fast.

"I've become the goat of the Olympics. There's nothing I can do about it. It's a memory I'll have to live with for life."

The world collapsed Thursday for America's champion sprinter. His series of failures was climaxed by a blunder which cost the United States a victory in the 400-metre relay.

Norton, running the second leg, became too anxious and over-ran his zone in receiving the baton from teammate Frank Budd. The Americans nipped the strong German team at the wire in a fantastic race, with Dave Sime running a tremendous anchor, only to be disqualified because of Norton's error.

The tall Negro athlete tried to keep his chin up, but he couldn't completely hide all the agonies that chewed away at him.

"Ray can't fool me. I can tell," said Wilma Rudolph, winner of the three gold medals and America's heroine of the women's track competition. "He is dying inside."

Wilma won her third gold medal by anchoring the women's relay team to victory and then fled Olympic Stadium in tears because of Norton's blunder.

Ray and Wilma have been inseparable. Ray has been cheered by the willowy Tennessee girl in her historic sprint triumphs. Wilma has commiserated with Ray during his mushrooming miseries.

"After I get home from this trip, I don't think I'll ever run again," Norton said. "I've had it."

Of the relay, he said:

"I must have been over-anxious. As Budd ran toward me, I heard him yell that I was over the line. I stopped—dead still. I didn't know until later that I had fouled."

There is a 20-metre area in which relay runners must make the stick exchange.

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, says soft living threatens to make the U.S. second class in sports.

"We are outclassed in half the events on the Olympic program," Brundage told a luncheon meeting of Rome's American Club. "If it were not for our great Negro athletes we'd be second class now. Life in the States is too soft."

The Chicago businessman feels the U.S. should have a national sports program like Russia's. "The IOC has suggested national sports programs for 50 years," Brundage continued. "It is a little frightening to find that the Communist nations have adopted them, for I do not believe their intentions are precisely those of the IOC."

* * *

With two days of events still to go, Italy's Olympic box office has hit a record 3,000,000,000 lire ($4,800,000), an Olympic committee source said today.

In addition to box office revenue, the Olympic committee realized $600,000 from the sale of television rights to a U.S. TV network, and another $550,000 from sales to European and Asiatic networks.

The total cost of the Olympic plant was $30,000,000.

'WORKERS' MAKE ELEGANT EFFORT . . . . . . INTO CAPITALISTIC SPORTS

Comrades in Top Hats and Tails

ROME (AP)—The rough-handed sons and daughters of the Soviet Union—the self-styled "workers' paradise"—are making an elegant showing at three of the Olympics more capitalistic sports.

They are:

Yachting—Of which the late J. P. Morgan once said, "If you have to think about the upkeep, you shouldn't own one."

Equestrian Events—Sport of kings, aristocrats and socialites.

Fencing—The hereditary profession of noble knights of old.

Competing in the same waters with Crown Prince Constantine of Greece, the Russians copped the gold medal in the star class (the prince won the dragon class gold medal).

Timir Pinegin, who proudly proclaims his peasant ancestry, had a triumph with a slight capitalistic tinge, however, for the ship was built in the United States.

The Soviets also won a gold medal in the single sculls, once the domain of such competitors as John B. Kelly, Jr., son of the late millionaire. The Russians won the event with Kelly's sister, Princess Grace of Monaco and her husband, Prince Rainier, looking on.

In fencing, were it not for their fellow Marxists from Hungary, the Soviets would just about dominate. As it is, they're doing first class, having won two gold medals and two silver ones.

But it's in the tres elegant equestrian sports that the late Premier Stalin would have probably received his rudest shock.

Sergey Filatov won the grand prix dressage, the classiest and most immaculate of events. Another Tovarichi—Ivan Kalita—was fifth.

Dressed in tail coats, top hats and spotless white ties, Sergey and Ivan were cheered by the upper crust of international society.

And in the jumping events Wednesday, Ernest Shabalo didn't win but he looked the perfect hunting gentleman in pink coat riding a horse called "Boston."

Give the comrades a few more years and they may even take up—and win—at golf, a sport that former foreign minister V. M. Molotov once denounced as:

"A capitalistic game that will never be played in the U.S.S.R."

KRISTOPAITIS OUT FOR SEASON

It Takes Three Men To Replace Big Vic

(Times News Service)

British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union have lost the services of linebacker-punter-place-kicker Vic Kristopaitis for the remainder of the 1960 season.

It was learned Thursday that Kristopaitis will require an operation on his knee, which he injured in a game against Winnipeg Blue Bombers Sept. 1.

It was believed at the time of the injury that he had merely strained the ligaments in the knee, but a later examination revealed the tear.

To replace him, Lions will need three men. Don Vicic or Jim Furey at linebacker; George Grant as a place kicker and Harold Sparrow as the punter.

PLAY MONDAY

Lions make their next start Monday, in Vancouver, meeting the Stampeders in a battle for third spot in the league standings. In another Monday night game, the unbeaten Blue Bombers face winless Saskatchewan Roughriders in Regina.

One game is scheduled for Saturday night, with the Stamps entertaining Edmonton Eskimos, who today announced that coach Eagle Keys was awarded a new two-year contract.

There was also a football announcement from Winnipeg today but, insofar as three players are concerned, of a less rewarding nature.

Commissioner Sydney Halter said Ron Kelly of Saskatchewan has been fined $50 for conduct resulting in a game penalty during a Calgary game Aug. 29.

Tackles Al Benacik of Roughriders and Mike Caci of B.C. were also fined $50 for drawing match penalties during the Roughrider-Lion game at Regina Sept. 5.

40-LAP FEATURE

Gold Cup 'Jinx' Extra Roadblock

Dick Varley has some ground to regain at Western Speedway.

The diminutive Victoria veteran is throttling along in third place in the stock car drivers' race for the point title, behind season-long leader Al Smith and Fanny Bay's favorite, Bob Mawle.

Varley, as the Gold Cup defender, will rate as one of the favorites when the stockers return to the Langford race plant Saturday night for the annual 40-lap race.

All Dick has to do to pick up the major share of points is to beat out an extra-large field and, perhaps, a jinx.

NOT TWICE IN A ROW

Nobody, in five previous Gold Cup races, has ever managed to grab the Gold Cup on successive years. Smith, Dave Cooper and Nanaimo's Ray Pottinger, other former winners, head the list of other drivers who will try to grab off the coveted trophy.

Saturday will also mark the end of fans' balloting for the Speedway's most popular driver. That's one department in which Varley has an edge, albeit a slight one, over Smith.

Time trials get under way at 7.30.

Dockyarders Play Sailors For Golf Cup

Annual competition for the Spencer Trophy, matching Dockyard golfers against Navy divot-diggers, will be held Saturday at Gorge Vale.

Post entries will not be accepted and all participants must report to the starter 15 minutes before they are due to tee off.

Umps Get Rest

BOSTON (AP)—Joe Cronin, American League president, says he is granting leaves of absence to umpires Bill McKinley and Ed Runge for the remainder of the 1960 baseball season.

The umpires made their request following an alleged effort by would-be extortionists in Maryland to bribe them.

Cronin said he was granting their wishes because McKinley and Runge had worked in complete co-operation with authorities including helping them apprehend those involved in the frameup.

Jinx Strikes Again

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The jinx that has haunted Barry Mackay in the U.S. national tennis championships in other years struck the big Davis Cupper down Thursday and he dropped a 7-5, 6-3, 6-8, 0-6, 6-4 decision to Bob Mark of Australia in the third round.

The victory enabled Mark, a scowling second-line Aussie, to gain the quarter-final round. Mackay, seeded third and the top U.S. hope for the title, never has gone past the quarter-finals of the nationals.

The top two seeds, Australia's defending champion, Neale Fraser, and Rod Laver, the red-haired Aussie who hasn't lost a tournament on grass this season, also moved into the quarter-finals along with fourth-seeded Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis, seeded No. 4.

LOS ANGELES—Danny Valdez, 126½, Los Angeles, outpointed Ricardo Gonzalez, 125½, Argentina, 10.

Talent Good—Condition Fair

The Victoria Rugby Union's select, admittedly "rather rushed" into conditioning, dress Saturday for their first trial test of the season.

The trial, in preparation for Victoria's Sept. 21 exhibition meeting with a touring Japanese squad, will be held Saturday on the Royal Roads grounds.

Kickoff time is 2.30.

While conditioning may be short of satisfaction, material isn't. At least, that's the opinion of veteran Peter Clarke, who will captain the select against the Japanese.

"We have excellent material and should give a good account of ourselves against the Japanese," he said.

Clarke has named the following players for Saturday's match.

For the Whites it will be George Wilson at fullback; Charlie Bishop and Dennis Hoyle on the wings; Gordie Hemmingway at outside centre and Ray Calton at inside centre; Gerry Main at standoff; Don Burgess at scrum half.

Forwards will be Dave Price and Sonny Vickery, prop forwards; Lynn Paterson, hooker; Tillman Briggs and Pete Foulds at lock forward; Paul Beck and Bill Murray, wing forwards, and Clarke, number eight.

Wayne Hutchison will be fullback for the Reds with Frank Berry and Mike Nightingale on the wings, Bob Hutchison at outside centre, Roy Ellis at inside centre, Dick Ellis at standoff and Bob Dawson at scrum half.

Prop forwards will be Ross Irving and Ray Ramsay, with P. Davies as hooker. Maurice Preece and Bob Coutts will be lock forwards, Bob Moore and Vern Reeder will be wing forwards, and Pat Corneill will be the number eight man.

Isbister Heads Shuttle Group

Pete Isbister was elected president of the Belmont Badminton Club at the club's annual meeting Wednesday at Colwood Hall.

Installed as secretary-treasurer was Bess Law.

It was announced that nights of play will be Monday and Wednesday, from 8 to 11 p.m., and that fee for the season will be $13. Members will use the Belmont High School courts at 3085 Jacklin Road.

Persons interested in joining the club are invited to attend the first session Monday. Additional information can be obtained by phoning GR 8-3278 or GR 8-3487.

ANSWERED BY 'ANDY'

He Hit Jackpot In Three Months

DAVID KOLB
. . . he's been around

Twelve-year-old David Kolb had only been in Victoria a few weeks before he began sending questions to "Ask Andy," popular science feature which appears daily in the Times, and within three months he hit the jackpot.

He won a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for having a question accepted, and has had it answered in the column appearing on this page today.

FROM TORONTO

David arrived here from Toronto last May, and had only five weeks at Central Junior High School before the summer holidays. He started this week in grade eight.

His father, R. A. Kolb, is a Trans-Canada Air Lines official, and new manager of the Victoria office. David was born in Calgary, and lived in Los Angeles, Montreal, and Toronto before coming here. Mr. and Mrs. Kolb, David, and son Allan, aged seven, live at 1550 Despard Avenue.

AVID READER

David admits he is no athlete, but enjoys collecting coins and stamps, and is an avid reader hence his question on a cyclotron.

But he admits further that all his reading is not about cyclotrons and their ilk. Most of it, he said, is adventures and mysteries.

He belongs to Gonzales Troop, Boy Scouts, and has spent the summer playing tennis, swimming, and taking the occasional camping trip with his family.

Although he is only 12, he has developed an attraction for the law, and is considering becoming a lawyer.

Ask Andy
HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to David Kolb, aged 12, of Victoria, B.C., for his question:

What Is a Cyclotron?

The cyclotron is an age-old dream come true. The alchemists of the Middle Ages wasted many hours trying to turn lead into gold. They called this the transmutation of matter. Later, when men learned more of chemistry they decided that this was impossible. Each element, they discovered, is made of atoms of a certain sort and an atom, they thought, could not be changed. Then came the atom smashers who learned how to break atoms apart and even remake the pieces into different atoms.

With a cyclotron, our scientists can make gold from lead, though the process costs about $10,000 for each ounce of gold. The rewards of the cyclotron, however, cannot be measured in gold. It is used to pry out the secrets of atoms, the tiny particles from which everything in the universe is made. With its help, several new elements have been discovered. It produces valuable radioactive substances and it releases nuclear energy.

An atom is made of even smaller particles and the nature of an atom depends upon the number of proton particles in its nucleus. The cyclotron uses atomic particles as bullets to break up the nuclei in the atoms of a target. The target is usually a thin, thin sheet of metal. The bullet particles are whipped to tremendous speeds and a few lucky ones will crash into atomic nuclei and cause their particles to be reshuffled. Nuclear energy is released in the process.

The mighty cyclotron is made from a vacuum chamber, a powerful magnetic field and a plentiful supply of electric power. The power is attached to two electrodes shaped in hollow half circles. The electrodes are called dees. Together they form a circle with a strip between them.

Little Impulses Give Speed

The electrodes are placed in the vacuum chamber and the chamber is set between two magnetic poles, which means that the parts are in a magnetic field. The atomic bullets get their speed energy from a lot of little pushes. The pushes are given by spurts of electrical energy and aided by the energy of the magnetic field.

The atomic bullets start out in the strip between the two dees. These electrodes prod them along with spurts of energy. The magnetic field keeps them traveling in a circle. The faster they travel, the wider the circle becomes. The electrodes vary their charges in step with the spreading bullets and, as the current changes, the bullets run downhill from one electrode to another. As they cross the centre line, the opposite dee becomes downhill. With each trip they gain speed until at last the bullets are fast enough to be aimed at the target.

SOLUTION MONDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

PARIS—"Have you ever wondered about coincidences?"

Although I often write about movie and TV stars, I go to few movies. (I claim that seeing their movies prejudices me against them as people.)

Nevertheless, on a Sunday afternoon, I set out with the B.W., to the Plaza moviehouse at 8 Blvd. de la Madeleine, here, in supposedly gay Paree. It was a quiet Sabbath. I had determined to see a movie called "Liaisons Dangereuses 1960." And I'll be frank with you — I wanted to see it because it had English subtitles.

I paid my francs and we started downstairs — that's the way it is in this movie house.

And as we reached the landing where the crowd was waiting for the break, I heard a woman exclaim: "OH NO! EARL AND ROSEMARY!"

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Gaines of Miami Beach, Fla., two of our closest friends, hopped up to greet us. Benny is the noted hotel owner. We hadn't known they were here — they hadn't known we were here — yet among the proverbial 50,000,000 Frenchmen and almost as many movie houses, we had chosen this movie, this Sunday, this precise 4.15 p.m., to walk down those stairs. What do you make of that, Alfred Hitchcock?

Benny had all the news of Ben Novak, of the Miami Beach Fontainebleau, and Harry Mufson, of the Miami Beach Eden Roc, living under the same roof at the Excelsior in Rome — hated rivals though they are. He gave me the latest report on Ed Sullivan's ulcers. He told me business wasn't the greatest in Europe this summer in the top hotels despite what you might have heard — because there was some fear among the stock market investors.

FISH CROSS UP BIOLOGISTS: THEY DIE BUT WON'T SINK DOWN

They're Getting Wind of Something at Langford

By TONY DICKASON

The west end of Langford Lake is pretty "high."

Dead fish.

They've been washing up under prevailing west winds ever since the provincial game branch poisoned the lake a month ago in a fish-eradiction campaign.

Idea was to get rid of coarse fish — catfish and such — and eventually restock with small-mouthed bass, to the benefit of anglers.

About 25 yards from the western lakeshore the smell becomes apparent; at 20 yards, more than apparent. At the lakeshore itself, sickening.

There were fish lying dead every few feet, from ex-wrigglers to 14-inchers.

Out from the shore are more dead fish, floating in.

Provincial fisheries department spokesmen say the fish were supposed to sink after treatment of the water with toxaphene, which knocks out the nervous system.

Most have, but not enough to suit residents of the west shore.

Mrs. Stanley Horner, 2906 Lee, whose front room window is about four yards from the shoreline of the lake, described it as "a little too close; at the moment."

Flies attracted by the dead fish are drumming on her picture window, both inside and out.

"I phoned the fisheries branch every day this week. They told me the fish would sink, but they obviously have not.

She has buried nearly 100, as has her neighbor, Mrs. Barry Kaene.

Mrs. Horner says "we filled our compost pile, apart from the 100. The fish started to come in last Sunday."

"I don't care what is done as long as they get rid of them," said Mrs. Horner. "I'm not complaining against the killing of the fish, but they should finish the job."

And that is apparently what the fisheries department intends to do.

Fisheries biologist David Hurn was to check the lake today and report on the trouble.

Fish were knocked out Aug. 3—bass, catfish, sticklebacks, sunfish, a few trout and bullheads.

Restocking with small-mouthed bass will be done when the lake clears itself, perdhaps between one and two years from now.

"We are confident," said Mr. Hurn, "that the chemical used would leave few fish floating. They go through an organic destruction, and won't float."

He said in past instances of using the chemical the department had rarely considered it necessary to remove dead fish as it had been no problem.

However, with the Langford Lake situation, he said, "we are prepared" to take care of the situation, even if it means removing dead fish.

Hustle-Bustle As Big Fair Gets Underway

(From Duncan Bureau)

Months of labor was culminated today at the official opening of the two-day Cowichan Exhibition in Duncan by Deputy Agriculture Minister William McGillivray.

It took place on a portable stage on the exhibition grounds near James Street, and was followed by presentation of several trophies for winners in fruit, flowers, honey, and Indian crafts sections.

The fair grounds were opened to the public at 9 a.m. today, but Thursday the James Street curling rink was filled with exhibitors arranging their displays. Judging began at 7 p.m. Thursday and continued until midnight.

Best district exhibit was the Somenos Parent-Teacher Association display which won 235 points out of a possible 250. Second place was taken by the Shawnigan Lake Parent-Teacher Association with a score of 232. Cobble Hill Women's Institute scored 229 points to win third place.

These three exhibits of farm and dairy produce, vegetables, fruit, preserves, and bee products stand across the south end of the curling rink. Their bright colors stand out richly against the black paper covered background and tables.

The north end of the curling rink features displays of flowers, art, and a fine show of 32 pictures displayed by the Crofton Art Group. Pictures created by Cowichan district children during the first "painting in the park" classes this summer form an attractive display. In the arts section a four-panel display on loan from the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, titled "Form and Color," forms an educational feature.

Photographs Show Early History

The Indian arts section, set up before a background of Cowichan sweaters, features many woollen clothing articles, wood carvings, and a show of photographs depicting dearly early history in the Cowichan Valley.

The grounds are green from recent rains and the white buildings and white fence of the light-horse ring make a fine picture. The last nails were hammered into the newly-constructed stock building on the northeast corner only hours before it was put to use.

Horses have been sheltered in the new building since 6 p.m. Wednesday after the completion of the Cobble Hill Fall Fair. The first horses to arrive were owned by Mrs. W. H. Dunbar, Miss Jean Dunbar, J. V. Donaldson, Joanne Aubel, Vivien Carley and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, all of Victoria. Thursday evening they were being brushed and curry-combed in preparation for the third horse show in the Saanich-Cobble Hill-Cowichan series.

In the centre of the rink the domestic science exhibits, with their bright colors of jars of jam show up well on the black paper covered tables. Further south in the building are the garden, field and honey tables.

Along the west fence of the 8.8-acre grounds dairy cattle and 4-H Club members with their calves are ready for the judging. The animals have been washed and blankets protect them while they wait for the events.

Fair president John Kerrone spent the whole of Thursday touring the grounds and the curling rink to assist his committee heads.

Fourteen commercial booths were completed Thursday night.

British Columbia Hydro and the B.C. agriculture department have large displays. The federal department of agriculture has a large pork display in the lobby. Also represented is the Astrex Club, a group of science-minded boys who show a model of the observatory they hope to build on Richard's Mountain.

Program this evening will feature music of the HMCS Naden band at 7.30, and a dog obedience display arranged by members of Cowichan Dog Obedience Club.

Merger Vote Oct. 20 At Ladysmith

LADYSMITH — Ratepayers here will vote Oct. 20 on extension of the village boundaries both north and south of the city which would increase village area from 220 to 1,965 acres.

The move would boost the population by 758 to - total of about 2,850.

A petition for amalgamation of the larger area into the village was conducted by Ladysmith Chamber of Commerce. There are 507 resident owners and corporations in the new area who are qualified to sign, and 327 signatures were received. Total in favor was 64.49 per cent, and only a 60 per cent majority was required.

Before the amalgamation can go through, it must be approved by a three-fifths majority of Ladysmith ratepayers. Information regarding the move will be made available to village residents in the next few weeks.

In addition to the new land area, amalgamation would include within the village some 311 acres of water.

Slash Fires Burn at Sooke

SOOKE—Loggers here took advantage of good weather Thursday to light a number of slash fires designed to get rid of potentially dangerous logging debris.

Six fires were lit between here and Port Renfrew. Ron Jones, Langford forest ranger, said all are heavily guarded and under control.

'Loyalty Is Not Divisible'

(From Duncan Bureau)

Canada will be satisfied with "nothing less than your complete loyalty," Judge Arnold Hanna told 15 New Canadians at a citizenship ceremony on Wednesday in Duncan Courthouse.

"Loyalty is not divisible," he said. "Naturally you will retain an affection for the countries of your birth, but your full allegiance now belongs to Canada."

Civic welcomes were extended to the candidates by Ald. R. K. Cairns of Duncan and Reeve Donald C. Morton, North Cowichan.

Mrs. R. E. Haskins, Bamberton, presented illuminated certificates on behalf of the IODE. Also present were Rev. Basil Hartley of the Cowichan Ministerial Fellowship and W. T. Pack of the Bible Society of Canada.

Candidates were Mr. and Mrs. Oskar Ruf, Mr. and Mrs. Gerben Elzinga, Mr. and Mrs. Siegfried Maron, Mr. and Mrs. Gregorz Gustynowicz, Mrs. Anni Neilsen, Mrs. Sophia Strasda, Mrs. Ingeborg Young, Mrs. Kurt E. Sautter, Reinhard Woike, Anton R. Wiersma and Lieto Domenico Lattanzi.

Speeders Caught By Radar Check

One man was fined $25 and five other persons were fined $20 after pleading guilty Thursday in Duncan police court to charges of speeding.

The cases were brought to court as a result of radar checks by the Duncan RCMP Don Alvin Harrison, Lake Cowichan, was fined $25. Others were Leslie Arnold Painter, Duncan; Douglas George Carswell, Nanaimo, and Sidney Horace Draper, Donald Burgess and Stanley Coleman, all of Victoria.

ate, and The Vancouver Sun said prison records describe the German as 22 years old, a carpenter and a private in the Afrika Corps.

Riggan's earlier statement was one of intrigue at the request of the Canadian "secret service."

He was approached in 1949 by a man whose name he could not reveal, the statement said, and asked to do a job which "involved the total sacrifice of my future life forever" and concerned "Canadian secret service."

Riggan consented and sent his familyto live in Vancouver. The job, he said, was to get "information about electronics and other things" from Kratz.

He got a job with the Alberta sheriff's department at Edson and received instructions from his "contract" to send only part of remittance money turned over to him to the authorities.

Later he moved to B.C. and worked at Kitimat, where the RCMP arrested him a few months later for theft of public funds.

Pleaded Guilty Under Instruction

"I was charged in Alberta with the offences mentioned previously, tried, pleaded guilty under instructions, and was sentenced to three years in Prince Albert."

He became friendly with Kratz while in an adjoining cell to the German, the statement said, and "my job was successful."

"I was given to understand before I took on this job that in later life, after retirement from the secret service, that anything that came up would be my own responsibility and that at no time must I endanger the position of others. This I do not intend to do."

Riggan's later statement said he had been promised that he would be consulted before the first statement was printed, and this promise was broken.

"I am sorry, truly sorry, if by this publicity I have wronged my party or the people who saw fit to nominate me" he added.

Attorney - General Bonner said today there is no legal impediment to Mr. Riggan running for election or sitting in the legislature.

"However, it is not solely a legal question. It is a question of ethics that only the electors of Delta can answer."

The question was whether there was a road back to complete acceptance of society after paying the penalty and leading, so far as he knew, an exemplary life since.

(In Victoria today constitutional experts said here were precedents for a person to sit in the Legislature after having served time for an offence. However, the constitution does provide that if a sitting member is convicted of a felony his seat becomes vacant.)

SPCA Shelter Open House Set Saturday

An open house especially for young people of from 12 to 17 years of age will be held Saturday at the SPCA shelter on Wilson Street, according to Norman Stephens, new secretary-manager of the branch here.

Hours will be from 2 to 4 p.m., when the staff will show the procedure of operation at the shelter, and Mrs. D. B. Hudson will arrange a dog obedience demonstration.

It will be open to both young members and prospective members. Junior section now has a roster of 100.

ADVANCE POLLING HEAVY

Record Vote Seen Monday

Signs of a record vote in the Sept. 12 election were up today with advance polling heaviest in years across B.C.

The Greater Victoria advance poll, at the YMCA, drew 334 voters between 1 and 9 p.m. Thursday, first of three voting days for those who won't get to polls Monday.

First day at the advance poll for Greater Victoria in 1956 there were 221 voters registered.

Second day there were 206.

"It was a good turnout for the first day," said returning officer Archie M. Browne.

100 FIRST HOUR

His staff was kept busy right from the start. There were 100 votes in the first hour.

"Of course there won't be so many the next two days," he said. "But it does indicate an interest."

In Vancouver an official estimated three times as many people showed up at the advance poll there as in 1956.

Advance polls will close at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Province-wide polling will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. local times Monday.

Korea is attracting more and more tourists. The country has great beauty, with 26 mountain peaks towering more than 6,000 feet, some 3,000 islands, and more than 1,500 temples, some dating from 57 B.C.

VOTE LIST 'PADDING' PROBE DELAYED

Sturdy Will Prosecute Offenders

VANCOUVER (CP) — Conservative candidates charged Thursday that irregularities exist in the voting lists in two Vancouver area ridings.

David Sturdy, candidate in Vancouver-Burrard, sent a telegram to K. L. Morton, registrar of voters, and returning officer J. W. Wardrop saying he intends to prosecute them "regardless of party allegiance and of the outcome of the election" if irregularities in the Aug. 11 list of voters are present when the list is renewed.

He said "very many persons" have been disenfranchised in the list, while disqualified persons are included.

Two candidates in Vancouver Centre said they will delay an application to the B.C. Supreme Court for an investigation into possible voters' list padding in their own riding.

Patrick Reid and Larry Eckhardt said they made the decision after legal advisers said an application now may result in a postponement of the election in the two-seat constituency.

They said party members will be scrutinizing polls in the constituency looking for fictitious voters.

Mr. Reid told an election rally Wednesday night an investigation of 10 polls showed 31 voters registered in a parking lot, 11 at a filling station, 233 at a hostel, 14 in a church basement and 12 legitimate voters registered more than once.

He said in one poll with 587 voters registered, 325 are not known at the registered addresses, are dead or are non-existent.

Provincial electoral officer Fred Hurley told the Times here today he has received no complaints of "padding" and as far as he knows the only incident so far is in Vancouver.

It's a matter for the local registrar of voting he said.

However, he explained that the voters list is a perpetual file, which is changed constantly.

Persons may get on the list either through enumeration or personal signature and application.

They can only get off through re-registration at a new address, notice of death, or by an application to a court of revision.

Mr. Hurley said such locations as gas stations today may have been boarding houses with a dozen registered voters a year or two ago.

After the election is over, if persons listed at such addresses do not vote then they may be assumed struck off.

ON MEDICAL CARE PLAN

'Religious Fear Campaign' Draws Fire From CCF

A play on religious fears, intended to be detrimental to the CCF, has been made in Saanich, CCF candidate Pat Thomas said Thursday.

He told of a Saanich voter who received an anonymous telephone call telling her that a government medical care plan "offers a latent but potent threat to certain dogmas and views of the Catholic Church relating to maternity, birth-control and the state."

Mr. Thomas said similar threats were made by the Medical Association in Saskatchewan when the CCF government campaigned for a medical care plan.

AIMED AT WOMEN

"In Saskatchewan they conducted a play on religious fear by a prepared speech aimed at women. Here they're doing the same thing—by personal contact."

The candidate described as "ridiculous" a claim by the Saskatchewan Medical Association that treatment for emotional ills would suffer under a government-controlled plan.

"They claim emotional conversations between doctor and patient won't be permitted . . . that such conversations will have to be reported to government officials.

"They say they'll have to tell all to Tommy Douglas (CCF premier). That's ridiculous."

Proceeding without hecklers' interference, Mr. Thomas waved a copy of a story in which Dr. E. C. McCoy, president, B.C. division, Canadian Medical Association, said the public would suffer under state medicine.

Mr. Thomas described Dr. McCoy's address to Victoria Rotary Club as "propagandizing."

MISLEADING

"His talk contains nine statements either misleading, false or partly true but misleading in presentation," said Mr. Thomas. He didn't elaborate.

A medical plan, such as the CCF proposes, has been widely hailed. Among those lauding it, said Mr. Thomas, are the dean of Saskatchewan University, Winston Churchill and Ian McLeod, former Conservative health minister in Great Britain.

"CLINCHER"

Satirically, Mr. Thomas said: "Those people said it's sound, that it's hard to find an opponent of it. But the clincher is a statement by the vice-president of North American Life Insurance. He said it must be opposed 'on political grounds quite independent from the matter of health'."

On election day the issue is not a vote for one individual over another but a "vote for or against a medical plan, public power or low-cost auto insurance."

"Even Mr. Williston (Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston) says public power is always cheaper than private power in any given situation."

The CCF is not proposing to take over car insurance.

"We propose to compete with private car insurance companies and rates."

HOW?

"How can there be competition? B.C. Hydro has 16 customers per square mile. The B.C. Electric has hundreds of customers per square mile."

Mr. Thomas levelled his strongest criticism on Social Credit handling of the private enterprise Milky Way Dairy in Saanich.

"The procedure (Social Credit) used was an insult.

"They passed a law (forbidding the dairy to use certain size cartons) and when the public didn't like it they never enforced it.

"For 260 days the dairy has been selling milk against the law—yet the government has done nothing.

"If the government believed the law was correct, they should have enforced it. If not they should have revoked it."

FORESTERS DUE SUNDAY

Vancouver Island will play host for five days next week to 50 leading world foresters, representing 19 different countries, who will arrive in Victoria Sunday from the Fifth World Forestry Congress in Seattle.

They will visit the Forest Service nursery at Duncan, logging operations, pulp and paper mills, plywood plants, and have been promised a demonstration by the Mars water bomber based at Sproat Lake.

'NUMBERS GAME' CONFUSING

Surgery on Wrong Limbs

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Philip Addison, writing in the British Medical Journal, says confused doctors operated on the wrong limbs of nine patients in Britain last year.

"It is hardly necessary to say that cases of this sort are quite indefensible," says Dr. Addison, secretary of the Medical Defence Union, an organization which gives legal aid to doctors.

"The council of the Medical Defence Union is becoming increasingly perturbed by the number of occasions on which it is confronted with a patient's claim for compensation after an operation was performed on the wrong limb or digit," he writes.

"During the past 12 months the union has dealt with no fewer than nine such claims."

Often the mistakes are due to doctors confusing right with left, he added.

Dr. Addison reminds doctors that they should stick to the practice of referring to the thumb as the thumb and naming the other fingers as the index finger, the ring finger and the little finger.

Describing them as first, second, third, and so on, fingers led to confusion, Dr. Addison warns.

All Parties at Full Strength For 'The Big Game' on Monday

All four major political parties are fielding a full team of Victoria candidates in Monday's provincial election.

Here are thumbnail sketches of the 12 candidates seeking a majority of the city's 32,006 votes, and three seats in the legislature.

Social Credit, CCF, Conservative and Liberal parties each have three candidates—one for each seat.

In 1956, last provincial contest, there were 13 Victoria candidates, including three Communists, but only one Conservative. There are no Communists running.

Pictures and sketches are arranged alphabetically.

One of two women seeking office in Victoria for the CCF is Mrs. May Campbell.

Born in Kent, England, she came to Canada in 1904 and lived for many years in Saskatchewan when she and her late husband helped in the foundation of the CCF.

In Victoria, Mrs. Campbell is president of the Senior Citizens' Housing Association which has just completed Banfield Lodge housing project. She is also a member of the provincial Credit Union League, and active in the Women's Council here.

Former provincial architect Clive Campbell, born in England, came to Victoria in 1920.

He served 28 years in the provincial public works department, eventually becoming deputy minister of public works as well as chief architect until he was dismissed in 1959 in an administration hassle.

A former president of the Architectural Institute of B.C., Mr. Campbell also is a member of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

William Chant, 65, is the government's veteran politician.

He started his career in 1927 as a school trustee in Camrose, Alta., and became a councillor in 1932.

Mr. Chant was agriculture minister in the Aberhart Social Credit government in Alberta. He came to B.C. in 1953 to help its "new" party.

Elected to the B.C. legislature that year, Mr. Chant became public works minister in 1955. He was re-elected in 1956.

One-time bush pilot H. "Ted" Cressy is another Conservative runner in Victoria.

Cressy, 59, came to Victoria in 1922 after serving with the Royal Naval Air Service. From 1923 to 1926 he was a bush pilot and engineer for several companies, including B.C. Airways at Lansdowne Airfield.

He has been associated with many aviation interests, as a past president of the Air Force Association, B.C. branch, an executive of the Air Cadet League, a past president of Canadian Legion branch 176. Mr. Cressy now operates a private retail business.

Geoffrey Edgelow ran in Victoria for the Liberals in 1956. He finished fourth in a battle for three seats.

He has been an alderman in Victoria since 1954, and publishes the magazine Island Events.

Born in Edmonton, Mr. Edgelow, 49, was educated in Victoria and has lived here most of his life. He has been connected with a number of local service clubs and organizations, serving office on most of them, including Rotary, Navy League, BPO Elks, Laurier Club, Chamber of Commerce, Victoria Island Publicity Bureau.

Mrs. Rhoda Erickson is seeking a Victoria seat in the Legislature for the CCF.

He's a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Gyro Club and Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion.

In 1954, Mr. Shaw returned to his law practice.

Among his many associations with service clubs and similar organizations is a 10-year stretch as Vancouver Island president of the Navy League.

A former teacher, school trustee, alderman, Mr. Skillings was defeated in a mayoralty election in 1949 and when he ran federally for the Socreds in 1947.

He tried unsuccessfully to get the Social Credit provincial nomination for Victoria in 1956, and earlier had sought the federal nomination for the Conservative party in 1949.

J. Donald Smith, a real estate man, was first elected Social Credit member for Victoria in 1956.

Formerly, a Victoria alderman, he ran for mayor in 1959 and was beaten by Percy Scurrah after a years' long duel on plans for a mall and parking building in downtown Victoria.

Mr. Smith first ran for city council in 1951. He resigned as alderman to seek the mayoralty.

METER EXEMPTIONS ILLEGAL? NOBODY'S SAYING OFFICIALLY

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady today declined comment on a suggestion that parking meter exemptions given a variety of city and government officials, outside police departments and handicapped persons were illegal.

Legality of the exemptions was questioned by Ald. Elmer McEwen Thursday when council was told it could not give free meter exemptions on election day to campaign headquarters of the four political parties contesting Victoria seats.

Mr. O'Grady said Section 216 of the Municipal Act generally prohibited council from granting special exemptions to anyone.

"Then that would probably make all our exemptions to city officials illegal too, wouldn't it?" asked Ald. McEwen.

Neglect Verdict In Traffic Death

Registrar -Big 'R,' Small 'r'?

B.C.'s legal minds and motor-vehicle officials today are facing the riddle "When is a registrar not a registrar?"

If the answer is that B.C. has a registrar of motor-vehicles, then they'll be "off the hook."

If the answer is there isn't a registrar, then thousands of suspended motorists may flaunt their suspension.

Vancouver Magistrate Gordon Scott Thursday posed the riddle by aquitting a driver of a charge of driving while his licence was suspended.

Offered as proof of suspension by the crown was a certificate signed by George Lindsay, superintendent of motor vehicles.

Under the criminal code, argued lawyer Bruce Harvey, acting for the motorist, such a certificate must be signed by the "registrar" of motor vehicles.

Mr. Scott agreed and said Mr. Lindsay didn't qualify.

However, Mr. Lindsay feels he does so qualify and an appeal will be launched by the Vancouver prosecutor's office.

An official of Mr. Lindsay's office said today the definition of the word registrar would be the key to the appeal.

He said the branch feels that Mr. Lindsay's position qualifies him as a registrar with a "small r" as the word appears in the criminal code.

Evidently Mr. Scott feels he should be a Registrar with a "big R".

City Students Win $1,600

Two Victoria students, Susan McPherson and Jack Martyn McLaren, were named today as winners of $1,600 IODE bursaries.

They are provided by the Second World War memorial fund which enables students to enter Canadian universities. There were 30 awards made this year.

Miss McPherson, 18, is the daughter of Mrs. Grace McPherson, 1841 Gonzales Crescent, and the late Major Thomas McPherson of Quebec.

The other award winner, now aged 18, lives at 517 Kelvin Road. Son of Mrs. E. M. Norsworthy and the late Jack McLaren, who was killed in the Second World War, he attended Tolmie Elementary, S. J. Willis and Victoria High School, and will go to Victoria College.

Missed Stop Sign, Driver Tells Jury

A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of culpable neglect against motorist John Richard Grealy, 1376 Pandora, concerning the death of Mrs. Annie Jane Mayne, 75, of 1900 Neil.

Mrs. Mayne was a front-seat passenger in a car driven by her son, Thomas W. Mayne, 2235 Harlow, on Sept. 1, when they were involved in a collision with a car driven by Grealy at the intersection of Foul Bay Road and Fairfield.

The impact threw her from the car on to the street and she died in Royal Jubilee Hospital early last Wednesday, nearly a week later.

Dr. Ross McNeely, Jubilee Hospital pathologist, told the inquest in McCall's funeral home that in his opinion Mrs. Mayne's death was not due directly to the injuries she received in the accident.

CORONER DISAGREES

Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, disagreed.

Dr. McNeely said the victim suffered multiple bruises and a fractured pelvis. The scalp was lacerated though the skull had not been fractured.

In his opinion a man in his 40s would have survived those injuries. Mrs. Mayne, however, had previously suffered a coronary attack and the shock was just too much for her damaged heart.

Thomas Mayne said he was taking his mother for a drive on the evening the accident occurred. He was driving within the limit eastwards along Fairfield Road and intended to turn north along Foul Bay Road.

When he reached the intersection he saw another car also heading north and they collided.

"It seemed to be going about 30 mph but I can't be sure," he said.

NORMAL SPEED

Richard C. Miller, 2571 Dalhousie, said he had stopped his car at the intersection of Irving and Fairfield and noticed Mr. Mayne's car pass at "normal speed." Shortly afterwards he heard a crash and saw the same car glance off another one and continue across the northeast corner of the intersection before coming to stop on Fairfield again.

Seventeen-year-old James Ruskin, 2725 Lincoln, said he was riding a bicycle north along Foul Bay Road when he was passed by a car "going at about 40 m.p.h."

DID NOT SEE

He didn't think this car stopped at the intersection with Fairfield because if it had, he would have caught it up. He did not see it stop at the stop sign.

Con. Douglas Grant gave evidence concerning the measurements of the intersection. The collision, he said, had occurred in the northeast section of the intersection.

The car driven by Mr. Mayne had continued over the curb of Foul Bay Road, collided with a stop sign, traversed some rough ground and ended up on Fairfield again facing southeast.

SLOWED DOWN

Giving evidence under the protection of the Canada Evidence Act, Grealy admitted he had not seen the stop sign although he had slowed down as he would normally at any intersection. He was not in a hurry.

He did not think the other car had attempted to brake.

Dr. Hart, summing up, said he could not agree with the pathologist's contention that death was not due directly to the accident.

An invalid was entitled to make use of facilities the same as anyone else. Although she had a bad heart, that did not make her death any less violent.

Q. Re bingo games played in Victoria for charity: Do the operators have to show an inspector the number of cards issued, cash received and amounts paid out in prizes? L.W.S.

A. Absolutely. An audit is made each time by a government inspector.

Q. I am under the impression that a few years ago the islands of the British West Indies joined in a federation. Would you please give us some facts on this matter? F.W.K.

A. The federation of 1[illegible] British island colonies came into being January 3, 1958. By federating the group obtained increased internal autonomy, but Great Britain still controls its international relations, defence and financial stability. Three other dependencies in the Caribbean area—British Guiana, British Honduras and the British Virgin Islands—chose to remain outside the federation. Members consist of Antigua, Barbados, Dominica, Grenada, Jamaica, Montserrat, St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and Trinidad-Tabago.

These Scalloped Potatoes Save Hours of Preparation

By PENNY SAVER

Busy mothers and wives holding down a business job are going to love new line I discovered in grocery department of one downtown store today. Believe it or not, you can now buy scalloped potatoes, all ready to pop into the oven! One 33 cent package holds enough for four to six helpings.

Potatoes are already deliciously seasoned and are the easiest thing to prepare. Simply preheat the oven to 400 degrees, empty contents of package into a medium-size casserole and add one cup of milk, 1½ tablespoons of butter and two cups of boiling water. Stir mixture gently and place uncovered casserole in oven.

Bake 40 to 50 minutes and you have a meal fit for a king—or a very discerning family!

To give your potatoes an exciting flavor try sprinkling a topping of grated cheese on 10 minutes before they're ready. Pop back into the oven until top is a golden brown and scalloped potatoes will be the biggest hit of the meal.

Another good idea is to add one cup of cooked, diced ham to potatoes before baking.

Those who like spareribs will appreciate one downtown store's "special" on pork neckbones. These make a wonderful substitute for costlier spareribs, selling for as low as 29 cents for two pounds.

If you're looking for a good family roast you can't do better than get one of the standing rib roasts of beef that sell at 79 cents a pound. Another good buy would be one of the pot roasts, priced at 59 cents a pound. These are shoulders of beef with the blade removed.

Although calf and beef liver is rather a strain on a restricted family budget, pork liver will provide a meal absolutely packed with nourishment at a nominal cost. This is now selling at 33 cents a pound.

Metchosin Reception For Newlyweds

Of interest in Victoria was the recent marriage of Miss Joan M. Frewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Frewing of this city and Henry J. Krocker, La Glace, Alta. Couple were married in Knox Presbyterian Church, Toronto, by Rev. Calvin Chambers. White gladioli and blue cornflowers decorated the church.

A gown of white silk organza trimmed with lace roses at the neckline and on the skirt, was worn by the bride. White roses and button chrysanthemums were in the bouquet.

Bridesmaid, Miss Naomi Hansom, Winnipeg, wore a blue embroidered organza sheath style dress.

Best man was Bernard Krocker, groom's brother. Ushers were John Allison and Dave Pitt.

Following the wedding, newlyweds left on a motor trip to Victoria to visit the bride's parents. A reception was given for them on arrival by Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Argall of Metchosin. Buffet supper was served from a table decorated with mauve chrysanthemums and white carnations. A. L. Bagshaw, cousin of the bride, proposed the toast.

Out-of-town guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kreller of Errington; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bagshaw; the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Krocker, and Mrs. A. Theissen of La Glace, Alta.

Leaving for the return trip to Saskatoon where they will make their home, the bride donned a printed silk dress and navy duster coat lined to match her dress.

DEAR ABBY

Better Start Looking

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who is having a difficult time deciding what to do. I am 47 (no children) and am very much in love with a widower who is 50. His wife passed away two years ago and his mother moved into his home to care for his 12-year-old son.

Abby, this man says he really loves me, but he doesn't want to get married until his son is on his own. This will mean waiting eight or nine years. I can't s this at all. Why should I just "go around" with him for eight or nine years? I tried to explain that his son needs a mother, but he says HIS mother fills that need. I can't sleep for thinking how wonderful life would be as his wife. Should I wait and hope he changes his mind? Or do you think he ever will?

"TO WAIT OR NOT TO WAIT"

DEAR "TO WAIT": If you want a husband, find yourself a man who wants a wife NOW. This man wants only a woman to "go around with". Wait at your own risk.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office. We moved because we are expanding and need more space. The boss had a tank of goldfish in our first office. We were hoping he'd give them up when we moved, but he didn't.

We girls have to feed them, change the water and keep the tank clean. This is a terrible chore. He travels all the time, isn't interested in the fish and never looks at them. So why does he insist on having them around? (I wish we could get rid of them "quietly".)

THE GIRLS

DEAR GIRLS: Maybe the boss just wants someone around the office who opens his mouth without asking for a raise. (The only way you can get rid of them "quietly" is to make a lot of noise.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When I read that letter from the wife who complained because her husband always "walked her on the outside" I was reminded of my own case which was exactly like hers. My husband used to do the same thing to me and I kept changing places with him and nagging him about it. He finally confessed (after we had been married three years) he was deaf in his right ear and he always wanted me on the side by his good ear.

UNDERSTANDING.

DEAR UNDERSTANDING: You are lucky. Some men put their wives on their deaf side.

Many Women Selling Real Estate

TORONTO (CP)—Diamonds may still be a girl's best friend, but these days real estate is coming in a close second.

Women today make up 15 per cent of the sales force in the rich sales area of southern Ontario.

Dave Mann, an official of one of Canada's largest real estate firms, says there's a sharp upsurge in the number of women selling homes.

Nova Scotian Honeymoon

A honeymoon motoring trip in Nova Scotia followed the wedding of Josephine Elizabeth McKibbon and Albert Ernest Joseph Constant in St. Thomas Catholic Church, Red Bank, N.B. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Frances McKibbon, Red Bank, and the late William E. McKibbon and Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Constant of Victoria. Father L. Kingston officiated at the nuptial mass before an altar decorated with red and white gladioli.

John Arseneau gave his niece in marriage. Fitted bodice of her floor-length gown of white nylon net over taffeta, had lily point sleeves and tiny buttons trimming the back. Sequins and pearls trimmed the neckline. An overskirt of lace tapered to a point at back over the full skirt. Lace border trimmed the elbow-length veil of nylon net that was held with a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and red carnations. Jewelry was a culture pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom.

Carribean blue nylon chiffon over taffeta formed the street-length gown worn by bridesmaid, Miss Margaret McKibbon, sister of the bride. Pearls trimmed her white hat and pink carnations and white chrysanthemums were in her bouquet. Debbie Matchett, tiny niece of the bride, wore a flower girl dress of white figured nylon over pink taffeta. Pink and white flowers formed her headband and white chrysanthemums were in the basket she carried.

Desmond J. Dodge was best man and ushering guests were William Todoschuk and Peter La France. All are stationed with the groom at RCAF station, Chatham, N.B. Organist was Miss Eileen Hogan and James McEachern, South Nelson, N.B., was soloist.

FOUR-TIER CAKE

Miniature bride and groom topped the four-tier wedding cake that centred the head table at a reception in the dining room of the station's Sergeants' Mess. Sweetpea bouquets completed table decor. Friends of the bride served guests. These were Mrs. Lawson MacDonald, Mrs. Amanda Fernandez, Mrs. Carmel Daley and Miss Theresa Underhill. Miss Margaret Silliker, the bride's niece, was in charge of the guest book. Toast was proposed by Reg Legere.

New Mrs. Constant chose a two-piece sheath dress in green and white checked cotton as a going-away ensemble. Accessories were white and corsage was of yellow roses. Newlyweds are now making their home at the trailer court, RCAF Station, Chatham, N.B.

WHY GROW OLD?

To Trim Tummy—Knees Up, Don't Forget to Hold It In

Q. "What is the best exercise for a 53-year-old woman to take to reduce her abdomen?"

A. There are many good ones but if you have not been exercising you should begin with one of the easier ones. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor overhead. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen and clasp the knees with the hands. Return arms and legs to starting position. Do this 10 times at first and gradually increase until you are doing the exercise about 35 times daily. Also remember to hold tummy in when standing, sitting or walking.

Q. "I have become allergic to practically all cosmetics. What can I do? Every powder makes me break out in a rash."

A. Try one of the cosmetic lines especially planned for those who are allergic. There are several good ones. If you want their names, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "My bust is getting very heavy. Should I see a doctor? It would be very embarrassing."

A. I do not know whether or not you have gained weight. If so, of course it would show in your bust. Neither do you tell me your age. Since you seem worried about the situation I judge that you refer to an unusual condition without any seeming reason for it. I suggest that you do see your physician. There is no reason to feel embarrassed about it.

Q. "Is their anything I can do to reduce a large stomach? My figure is all right across the bust and hips. From the back I look slim, but from the front and side I look like a pregnant woman. I am 14 years old. Can you help me?"

A. You should take abdominal slimming exercises. Also watch your posture and try to hold your tummy in, and tuck yo hips under.

If you would like my tested abdominal reducing exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

Overseas Trip

Mrs. T. W. Walker and Mrs. H. G. Ellis have just returned from a three months' holiday overseas. Flying by jet to England, the two friends spent a month in that country and afterwards visited Denmark, Holland, Switzerland and Portugal. Highlights of trip included a stay in Holland where they were the house guests of Mrs. Walker's cousins, Gen. Pahud de Montanges, Mrs. de Montanges and Miss Metha de Montanges, in their home at The Hague, and a holiday in Monteux, Switzerland, where they were the guests of Mlle. Sophie Rasch, Mrs. Walker's cousin.

Hawaiian Dance

A dance with an Hawaiian theme will be held by the B.C. Electric staff this evening in the Crystal Garden. Len Acres will play for dancing and a buffet supper will be served. Mrs. W. E. Harris and Mr. Walter Margetts are in charge of arrangements.

Back From Trip

Home from a two-month honeymoon in Europe are Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Travis whose marriage took place in Victoria in June. Mrs. Travis is the former Miss Lorraine Brand of this city. The couple will be making their home in Victoria.

From Belleville

Out-of-town guests at the recent wedding of Miss Suzanne Anderson and PO Peter Robson, RCAF, in First Baptist Church, were the groom's mother, Mrs. Milton H. Robson, and his aunt, Mrs. Stanley Hayton, of Belleville, Ont., and Mrs. Stanley Skuse, Vancouver, the bride's cousin.

House Guests

Dr. W. J. Bell and Mrs. Bell, of Warren Gardens, have had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Vance, of Oakville, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. Vance were also visiting Mrs. Vance's father, Mr. B. J. Mellish, in Vancouver, before travelling on to Winnipeg, where they will be guests of Mr. Vance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Vance.

Baby Named

Glenda Carolyn were names given the 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Litster at a christening ceremony conducted by Rev. A. I. Higgins in First United Church Sunday. Mrs. Maude Hall and the late Mr. James Hall are the baby's maternal grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Litster the paternal grandparents. Godparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. Howland. Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was held in the Wilkinson Road home of the little girl's parents.

Pictured outside Canterbury Cathedral in the lovely southern country of Kent, Eng., is Miss Winett A. Copeland, assistant professor of education at Victoria University. She has been visiting the British Isles and Europe during the past several months. The cathedral, founded by St. Augustine in the sixth century, and scene of the murder of Thomas Becket in 1170, is considered one of Britain's greatest architectural treasures. During the day, Miss Copeland also visited the city of Rochester, famous for its Saxon Cathedral and its association with Charles Dickens, novelist. She is expected to return to the city about Sept. 15. (British Travel Association Photo.)

Motor to New Home in Manitoba

A honeymoon motoring through western Canada to Portage la Prairie, Man., where they will make their home followed the recent marriage of PO Peter G. Robson, RCAF, and Miss Suzanne Anderson. First Baptist Church was setting for the wedding with Rev. G. R. Easter officiating. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Anderson of Victoria and Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Robson of Belleville, Ont.

White, bronze and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the church for the afternoon service. J. Tunstall was organist and Mrs. Russell Murphy sang "The Lord's Prayer."

ORGANZA GOWN

Bride entered the church on her father's arm. She wore a gown of white silk organza over peau de soie. A scalloped neckline highlighted the bodice and the pearl and lace trimmed skirt swept to floor length. A white pearl tiara held her veil of white tulle embroidered with pearls and lace which cascaded to finger length. She carried a prayer book topped with a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Patricia Duggan; bridesmaid, Miss Michele Anderson; junior bridesmaid, Janice Copley and flower girl Carol Booth wore dresses in green tones. Two senior attendants' gowns were of organza posed over apricot taffeta. All carried bouquets of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

FO Bruce Bewyer, RCAF, was best man and ushers were Bill Anderson and Ricky Hansen. Groom and best man wore RCAF uniforms.

The bride's favorite song "I Believe" was sung by Miss Michele Anderson and Miss Patricia Duggan at a reception at Holyrood House. Bridal table was centred with a wedding cake made by the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. K. Robson, Belleville, Ont. Chrysanthemums and yellow roses decorated the room.

Master of ceremonies was Clarence Reid. Burt Booth proposed the toast to the bride.

Bride's father, played for the reception.

Leaving on her wedding trip, the bride wore a blue jacket dress with matching blue velvet hat trimmed with a whimsey veil. Her accessories were in black and she had a corsage of white roses.

GRUBER RELEASES 'THE LINE-UP'

Memorable Season Set For Symphony's '20th'

By AUDREY JOHNSON

Two decades of continuous activity will be celebrated this fall and winter by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra and for Vancouver Island symphony fans it promises to be a memorable season.

As a prelude to the 1960-61 membership campaign, the orchestra's musical director Hans Gruber today announced the line-up of artists and music for the 10 pairs of subscription concerts.

Membership drive for new and renewed season subscriptions will get a big send-off with a free outdoor concert on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 18 at the Legislative Buildings.

In addition to the 10 pairs of concerts at the Royal Theatre, there will again be a series of four concerts at Duncan and three at Sidney. Also a series of children's concerts is in the planning stage.

While the opening pair of all orchestral, there will be 13 concerts, Oct. 2 and 3, is to be guest appearances.

An outstanding event will be the Dec. 11 and 12 performance of Llord's Puppets. These are designed expressly for presentation with a symphony orchestra and are altogether remarkable in style and effect.

Appearance of a 16-year-old brilliant girl pianist, Patricia Perrin, and a young man from Montreal, Ronald Turini, who was second prize winner at the distinguished Queen Elizabeth competition for pianists in Brussels, adds interest to the season as also does the first Victoria engagement of renowned Canadian soprano, Elizabeth Benson Guy.

Three Concerts Guest-Conducted

Three pairs of concerts are to be guest-conducted. One of these will see Alexander Gibson on the podium.

Mr. Gibson is the spectacular and youthful conductor of the Scottish National Symphony Orchestra, whose jet-propelled career has included the position of principal director of the Covent Garden Royal Opera Orchestra, various BBC orchestras, and guest appearances with the Halle Orchestra and major orchestras all over Europe.

Programs and dates, in detail, follow:

Oct. 2, 3: Beethoven—Overture "Consecration of the House;" Haydn — Symphony No. 88 in G major; De Falla—Three Dances from "The Three-Cornered Hat;" Beethoven — Symphony No. 7, A major.

Oct. 23, 24: Mozart — Symphony No. 33, B-flat; Reger—Variations and Fugue on a theme of Mozart; Beethoven—Concerto for Piano and Orchestra, G major, Patricia Perrin, soloist.

Jan. 15, 16: Alexander Gibson, conducting. Beethoven—Fourth Concerto for piano and orchestra, Sheila Bates, soloist. Balance of program to be announced.

Feb. 5, 6: Clifford Evens, conducting. Elizabethan Suite, arranged by Barbirolli; Bartok—Concerto for orchestra; Rachmaninoff — Rhapsody on theme by Paganini for piano and orchestra, Ronald Turini, soloist; Berlioz — Overture, "Roman Carnival."

April 9, 10: Tschaikowski—Symphony No. 6, "Pathetique"; Tschaikowski—Concerto for piano and orchestra, B-flat minor, Robin Wood, soloist.

GRADUATE and scholarship student of the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, gifted dramatic soprano Merna Jenkin is holidaying at her Victoria home. She will be guest artist tonight at a special concert presented by the intermediate group of Victoria Musical Art Society at Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street. The concert is open to anyone interested in hearing Miss Jenkin and to prospective members of the group. The program will begin at 8.30. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jenkin, Dunlevy Street, the young artist was formerly a pupil of the Roberto Wood Studios.

ESTONIANS IN WINNIPEG 'WARNED'

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Free Press says Estonians living in Winnipeg have received "veiled warnings" from relatives overseas to stop writing too often, and stop sending parcels, if they want to avoid becoming implicated in trouble in Canada.

The newspaper quotes one member of the Estonian community in the city—reported to be about 150 strong—as saying the warnings now have more meaning since Alexander Laak became the target of a Russian news agency attack. Laak committed suicide Tuesday.

"It looks like they are tightening down over there," the Estonian member said. "Our friends know that an active letter writer, or one who sends parcels, is likely to be singled out for attack."

U.S. Forced To Deal Soon With Chinese

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Chester Bowles, chief foreign policy adviser to Sen. John F. Kennedy, said Thursday the next U.S. president would be forced to deal more with Communist China.

He said that "such a policy need not involve our dealing directly with Peking, although on issues from news coverage to arms control I believe a new administration will move in that direction."

Bowles said Red China's "growing strength and aggressive nature will impel us to have a policy toward her in the '60s."

His remarks came just as state department announced failure of a new U.S. proposal to exchange American and Chinese reporters.

Opening lead—♥ 10

South's six no-trump contract was optimistic to say the least and he had certainly overbid to get there. His opening two no-trump did include a six-card suit but he had shaded his high card value down to 20 points and really should have passed when his partner raised him from two to four.

Actually, the contract wasn't a bad one. Put the ace of diamonds over in the East hand and South would have 12 tricks but that diamond ace sticks out right in the middle of West's cards.

So, how did South make the contract?

It was a cinch. Remember West was an expert. South simply won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts, led a diamond and went up with his king.

Expert West ducked. He did not know about that six-card club suit. He did know about his own ace and jack of diamonds and wanted to wait for a second diamond lead so that he could make both of them.

That second diamond lead never came. And to add insult to injury South made all the tricks. West hung on to his ace and jack of diamonds while [illegible] was equally tenacious with the queen and ten and South's deuce of spades took the 13th trick.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln-dried siding is the finest available — a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER

Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, light weight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood. It is very easily worked, is free from pitch, takes and holds stains, paints and enamels excellently, and is superior for glueing. Because of these qualities, Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY

Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING CHARACTERISTICS

Left exposed without paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen. It is one of the most stable species of lumber, having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING QUALITIES

Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly-used soft woods — another point in its favor as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

CBC Radio, Television Offer 'Blanket' Election Coverage Monday

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

WHEN PREMIER W. A. C. BENNETT and his champion Socreds take the field against such doughty teams as the Tories, Grits, the CCF and the Commies, Monday, the game will receive such blanket TV and radio coverage that one must, in contrast, shrug off the contests now going on in Rome as strictly minor league.

States the CBC Times: "CBC radio and television coverage of the Sept. 12 British Columbia provincial election will utilize CBC facilities as never before to bring fast and accurate reports from all parts of the province."

Here are the facts, M'am:

CBC radio will go on the air at 8 p.m. CBC-TV will start its telecast at 8.30.

The most ambitious service, the CBC admits, will be forthcoming via radio which will use a system designed to bring returns from all ridings directly to the main radio studio in Vancouver.

The Dominion Network of CBC, radio will, in effect, be used as a closed-circuit communication line for the assimilation of all vital information. Co-operating in this comprehensive plan will be radio stations at Prince Rupert, Kamloops, Prince George, Dawson Creek, Trail, Chilliwack, Nanaimo and CJVI, Victoria.

Results, as quickly as they are received, will be relayed to Vancouver's CBC television outlet, CBUT, via a special teletype link.

Radio interviews will be worked in during the evening with Premier Bennett from Kelowna, from CCF party leader Robert Strachan from Duncan, from Progressive Conservative party leader Deane Finlayson, and Liberal party leader Ray Perrault in their home ridings in North Vancouver.

The CBC says it will employ a two-ton electronic computer and two other smaller computers.

★ ★ ★

WITH THE CBC's OTTAWA Press Gallery commentator, Norman DePoe and freelance commentator Doug Collins, reporting on, interpreting and analyzing the results as they are received, CBC-TV will also broadcast from four "remote" points outside of the TV studios — at party headquarters in Vancouver. A special broadcast will be made also from Victoria through CHEK-TV.

Doug Campbell will act as host of the CBC-TV broadcast from 8.30 p.m. onwards with announcers Ray Nichol reading returns and Gordon Inglis receiving the results from the electronic machines—the first time such equipment has been used in a B.C. election.

Reporting from political party headquarters in Vancouver will be Ted Reynolds, Bob Quintrell, Bill Cunningham and Pat Brennan.

CBC-TV coverage will be produced by Peter Elkington under the direction of Les Jackson, editor-in-charge CBC-TV news in Vancouver.

Overall direction for the election broadcasts on CBC radio and television is by Dick Elson, CBC News Supervisor for B.C.

WHAT'S ENGLISH COSTUME?

. . . Sou'westers And Wellingtons!

LONDON (CP) — What is the national English costume?

That was what Mrs. E. D. Milner of Oshawa, Ont., wanted to find out when she wrote to The Daily Mirror.

She belongs to an "old country club" which provides dolls in British costumes to hospitals.

"There is no problem in dressing the Scotch, Welsh and Irish dolls," she wrote, "but we cannot decide on the correct dress for English dolls.

"The north country members say she should wear clogs and the southerners want her dressed as a coster.

"Can you help us decide on a truly national English dress?"

The Mirror invited readers to decide.

Three did, but all had different ideas.

A London woman suggested "a two-piece tweed costume, a felt hat and a handbag to match."

A woman in Hampshire was more romantic. "I think a doll dressed as 'England' should wear a long white gown, with roses plentifully dotted over the material. She should have fair hair, blue eyes and wear a crown of roses."

A Staffordshire woman suggested the English national costume for the doll should be "a raincoat, sou'wester and Wellington boots."

. . . PEARKES

manche was appointed to the senate.

When Prime Minister Diefenbaker moves to fill these vacancies as well as making the appointment of a new defence minister he is expected to transfer some ministers from their present portfolios to new posts within the cabinet.

Hon. A. J. Brooks the present minister of veteran affairs is slated for appointment to the senate.

Mr. Guest's letter, it is believed here, was prompted by inside knowledge that Mr. Pearkes was soon to leave the cabinet.

In his letter the prime minister's ex-aide wrote that his political ambition "is extremely dependent on the decision of the Conservative people of Esquimalt-Saanich. This letter is to ask you, frankly, whether you think I might be acceptable as a candidate and whether I could count on your support and advice in that regard."

Before his departure from the post of executive assistant to the Prime Minister Mr. Guest made no secret of the fact that he is politically ambitious. He is anxious to run as a Conservative candidate in a West Coast riding so that he can return to Ottawa as a member of parliament some time in the future.

Tories Speak For Labor Says Bryant

The Progressive Conservative Party speaks for labor as well as "all sections of our society," Esquimalt candidate James Bryant told a rally in the Crystal Garden Thursday night.

"For the CCF to claim they alone represent labor is misleading and untrue," he said. "Past legislation in B.C. has been designed to give a temporary advantage to either labor or management.

"A glance at the industrial scene during the past few years shows the inadequacy of the Social Credit labor legislation program.

SECONDARY

"I say to you that both labor and management must be made to realize that their own interests must be secondary to the welfare of the people as a whole."

Mr. Bryant said the Conservatives would restore a full-time Labor Relations Board composed of responsible men; write a new labor code with management and labor; stop any government from using industrial unrest as a political football.

Former 'Y' Man Dies in Nanaimo

Fred Whiston Noel, a resident of Victoria for nearly 40 years, died suddenly at his home at 255 Mount Benson Street, Nanaimo, last week.

He was 54 years of age and the manager of a well-known radio store in Nanaimo. In Victoria he was a leading member of the YMCA.

Funeral services were held in Westwood Chapel of Flowers last Sunday, Rev. William Van Druten of Brechin United Church officiating.

The remains were sent to Vancouver for cremation.

Mr. Noel leaves the widow, Muriel; two daughters, Mrs. Peter Neild of Montreal and Miss Beverley at home; three brothers, Percy and Walter, in Victoria, and William in Halifax, N.S.

SOCIALISM OR NOT

'Ferries? The People Love 'Em!'

Social Credit candidates were given a rousing reception at a meeting in Monterey School Thursday night by an almost completely partisan crowd.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson, former MLA, and Victoria candidate J. Donald Smith, and Oak Bay candidate, Reeve George Murdoch, had opposition from only one member of the audience—Elgin "Scotty" Neish, Oak Bay resident and well-known political left-winger.

Mr. Smith took a few minutes to describe the background of the government ferry system, after which Mr. Neish exclaimed: "That's socialism."

"Call it what you like," Mr. Smith said, "but those ferries are running and the people love 'em."

Mr. Neish's answer was lost in the cheers of the crowd.

Later, after having thrown a few queries at Mr. Peterson, he found the minister's finger waving directly at him.

"Why look at me?" he asked.

Mr. Peterson was nonplussed for a second, but rallied quickly.

"I like to," he laughed. "You give me inspiration."

'Now Tell Us About the Strike'

Mr. Neish fared better with an impromptu speaker, W. Llewellyn, who volunteered, when invited by Reeve Murdoch to speak on the friendly relations between retired civil servants and Social Credit governments.

"Now tell us about the strike," Mr. Neish asked after Mr. Llewellyn's address, referring to the civil service strike of March 13 last year.

"I don't know anything about that," Mr. Llewellyn said and returned to his seat.

Mr. Peterson, speaking in support of Reeve Murdoch in Oak Bay, claimed his government has made no "give-aways" nor granted concessions, but listed others he said were granted by former governments.

The Kitimat aluminum industry did not pay school taxes until the premier told the company it was not fair to the rest of the province for it to be exempt, and the company reversed the decision.

The tax concession for MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. at Port Alberni was defended in the highest courts, he said, and the company only paid school taxes when the government provided new legislation.

He disagreed with opposition party plans to remove the cost of education from property, saying that the public should be cognizant of education costs.

School System in Great Shape

"School taxes are up," he said, "but the home-owner grant takes care of the increase for most of the people who need the help most. And cancelling the grant would mean, in essence, that everyone now paying less than $50 in school taxes would have his taxes increased."

He said school enrollment in the province is up 15,000 over the figure of a year ago, and that the school systems have "never been in better shape to receive them."

Other highlights:

B.C. will spend close to $20,000,000 this year on school building, or more than any other province.

UBC boasts the largest education faculty in Canada, and B.C. has Canada's most highly qualified teachers.

The province deserves more help from the federal government for its plan of remitting part of the fees of brilliant students.

"Ottawa matches us dollar for dollar to $30,000, but that is just a drop in the bucket."

Reeve Murdoch criticized the press "for distorting facts" on the Wenner-Gren development, which he said is one-sided, "and all on the part of the government."

Mr. Smith warned against splitting the vote against the CCF.

"The CCF now is dominated by a few ambitious labor bosses," he said. "They are paying the shot, and will call the tune. We have a fight on our hands."

Public Hearing On 'Skyscrapers'

City council Thursday gave preliminary approval to a bylaw establishing 30 acres in James Bay as zones were high rise apartments up to 12 storeys will be permitted.

A public hearing will be held at the next meeting before final approval of the bylaw is considered.

Three areas would be rezoned: Properties bounded by Douglas, Simcoe, St. Andrews, Huntingdon and Toronto; overlooking Beacon Hill Park; properties bounded by Dallas, South Turner, Boyd, Luxton and Rithet, overlooking Ogden Point Promenade; properties bounded by Menzies, Simcoe, Oswego and part of Michigan, overlooking the central area of James Bay.

On a recorded vote, aldermen passed a motion expressing "support" to city officials who enforce bylaws requiring certain standards for living accommodations.

The crackdown on landlords—some of whom do not even provide water or heating facilities—was requested by city welfare committee after a tour of several rundown areas of the city.

Ald. Elmer McEwen and Ald. Austin Curtis, who both said it was superfluous to ask officials to enforce council's bylaws, voted against the motion.

Ald. Arthur Dowell said the city should improve and enlarge civic floats in the Inner Harbor in order to attract more millionaire yachtsmen.

He said many people felt that the city should not provide floats "for the idle rich but I have known some of them who have spent up to $3,000 here in a single weekend and that's what we should cater to. They are willing to pay for these services."

A Junior Chamber of Commerce request for permission to close off the block of Blanshard Street immediately in front of Memorial Arena for one week next May was referred to traffic committee for report.

The Jaycees said closing the block would enable them to expand the midway at their annual fair.

South Australia will establish in the Musgrave Ranges the state's first cattle station exclusively for aborigines.

Florida Awaits 'Donna'

Hurricane Hits Keys

(Times News Services)

MARATHON, Fla. — Hurricane Donna swept in on the Florida Keys with murderous 150-mile-an-hour winds today and trained its sights on the populous Miami metropolitan area.

The Miami weather bureau issued an emergency warning that residents of the island chain stretching south from the Florida tip had only "an hour or two" to get out or sit tight in whatever shelters they could find.

At 1 p.m. EST (11 a.m. PDT) Donna's centre was located only 150 miles south-southeast of Miami and about the same distance east-southeast of Key West. It was moving toward the west-northwest at 12 miles an hour.

Hurricane hunter planes keeping watch on the "extremely wet" storm said it had begun a very gradual drift more northwestward, meaning "the area of maximum winds and highest tides would be experienced in the middle keys."

The turn made it even more likely than before than the Miami gold coast area and the southern west coast of Florida would feel at laest part of the storm's brutal force.

11 FOOT TIDE

In an emergency warning to residents of the Keys—the long chain of islands extending south and west from the Florida mainland—the weather bureau said tides will range up to 11 feet above normal.

Even six-foot tides would inundate a large part of the Keys.

Heavy squalls with considerable local flooding was forecast for the interior of Cuba.

Winds reached 150 mph at the centre of the storm and hurricane-force winds extended outward 135 miles to the southwest. Gales stretched 250 miles to the northeast and 140 miles to the southwest.

Forecasters said Donna might pass through the Florida Straits and move into the Gulf of Mexico.

BOARDED UP

Key West, a city of 45,000 lying 90 miles north of Havana, boarded up and prepared to wait out the storm. The huge naval installation there was buttoned up. All vessels put out to sea and aircraft were ferried northward.

HOMES DESTROYED

As the storm's first hard blows were delivered on Cuba, flood waters destroyed about 80 houses in the coastal community of Gibara. More than 3,000 persons were evacuated.

The hurricane produced one of the biggest buying sprees in south Florida since last Christmas. Shelves were stripped of canned goods, bread, milk, flashlights and batteries, candles and camp stoves.

'QUESTION OF ETHICS' SAYS BONNER

Ex-Convict Socred Can't Verify Story

VANCOUVER (CP) — Social Credit candidate Donald Riggan said Thursday night he made three attempts to verify with unnamed authorities his story that he served a prison term for theft as part of a "Secret Service" assignment.

But, he told a reporter, the people he sought were "evasive" and he didn't blame them.

He issued a statement saying: "I stand convicted by the past, a past I felt had been left behind . . . I can only hope that to my friends, no explanation is necessary. To my enemies, and they appear powerful, no explanation is sufficient."

Mr. Riggan told of a "desperate situation" that led to the disclosure of his story.

There had been a "whispering campaign" about the charges for more than a week.

He said the questioning by a reporter who inquired about the rumors, "I saw the new life I had built for myself and family going up in smoke."

'Bitter, Vindictive Campaign'

"It was a desperate situation, and I was desperately anxious to preserve my wife and children from the shame that would follow such revelations, not too sensational in themselves, but highly colored by the bitter and vindictive campaign that has been waged against the party that I represent in Delta."

Mr. Riggan, 41-year-old father of six, is a director of the British Columbia Social Credit League and president of the constituency league in Delta, where he is seeking election in next Monday's province-wide voting.

He said Thursday night he will not quit the campaign and, in fact, will speak in Delta tonight. Mrs. Riggan said she will go with him.

He indicated, without specifying, that there were discrepancies in a statement published earlier in which he admitted he had been sentenced to three years in prison for theft of public funds.

The thefts occurred in Edson, Alta., while he was a bailiff for the Edmonton sheriff. But Riggan said it was part of an elaborate plot to obtain vital information from a "brilliant Nazi scientist named Adolph Kratz," who was serving a sentence for murder in Prince Albert Penitentiary.

He said he was convicted by a jury on one charge and pleaded guilty to five others. He also admitted obtaining $1,175 in a car deal by false pretences, but claimed he pleaded guilty in error and did not correct the error because it made no difference to the three-year prison term he was given.

He was paroled after 11 months and served out the term on probation.

However, at Prince Albert, Deputy Warden Jack Weeks said he recalled both Kratz and Riggan. He described Kratz as being almost illiter-

We're Not Claiming Him RCMP States

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP refused today to link itself with an undercover assignment which British Columbia election camdidate Donald Riggin says he once carried out in order to obtain scientific information from a German prisoner of war.

"We certainly are not going to claim him," an RCMP spokesman said here. He added that he thought it was "really a political situation, rather than a police one."

The RCMP said its records show that a man by the name of Riggan did serve time in the Prince Albert Penitentiary, "but we are not going to say it was the same man," since details of the offences involved were lacking here.

U.S. 'Spite' Hits Fraser Coho Run

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian fisheries officials today charged Washington State officials of spite action that could wipe out a cycle of the Fraser River coho salmon.

Spokesmen said action by Milo Moore, Washington State director of fisheries, in recently opening fishing off Point Roberts and Bellingham was a reprisal designed to save United States coho runs and erase a Canadian cycle.

They said the only coho in that small area are bound for the Fraser River. Coho are called silver salmon in the U.S.

W. R. Hourston, Pacific fishing area director, last week refused a request by Moore to close the Strait of Juan de Fuca for fishing.

As a result of the Canadian refusal, and continued fishing in the rich area at the mouth of the Juan de Fuca Strait, Moore reopened a small section off Point Roberts.

Officials say the path of the coho is mainly on the Canadian side of the border in the Juan de Fuca than mainly on the U.S. side in the Strait of Georgia until past Point Roberts.

They say there is ample escapement for the fish in Juan de Fuca.

Most of the fish head for the Fraser River although some go to other rivers in Canada and the U.S.

PICKETERS IN TIGHT SKIRTS

Sex Newest Strike Weapon

LONDON (UPI) — Fifteen teen-aged girls who walked off their jobs here may have found the ultimate strike weapon—flirting.

Linda James, a beautiful 18-year-old Cockney lass, who is the youngest shop steward in Britain, led 14 girls and two men out on strike three days ago at Sunpak Ltd., a maker of collapsible tubes and other items.

"We will fight to the end for shorter hours, better pay and decent ventilation," said Linda.

Police inspector James Mayer warned her there must be "no rough stuff."

Linda agreed, but she said, "we may flirt with the truck drivers to try to stop them going out of the factory to make deliveries."

So Linda and the other girls dress in tight skirts and wear spike heels with pointed toes for their picket tour every day.

There has been only one crack in the united front. The husband of 19-year-old Doris McGuigan, one of the pickets, has threatened to leave his wife unless she gives up the strike.

The husband told her this morning: "This strike has made you neglect your home and responsibilities. You have not even made the bed yet."

KATANGA INVADERS RESISTED

Guinea Wants To Pull Out

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters) — The Guinean detachment with the United Nations force said today it wanted to pull out of the Congo until the UN "ceased its flagrant interference" in internal Congolese affairs.

The Guinean action came soon after Premier Patrice Lumumba announced he had taken over the functions of head of state in addition to his present post of premier.

The head of the Guinean command told a press conference that Gen. Diane Lansana had asked President Sekou Toure to agree to the "provisional withdrawal" of the contingent.

In another development, The Associated Press reported from Elisabethville that Katanga government sources claimed the central Congolese government force invading Katanga province has been stopped by a resistance force.

NO FIGHTING YET

No fighting has yet been reported between the invasion troops and the Katanga border guards, who have been planning their defences since Katanga seceded from the central government in July.

The Katanga government defied a United Nations order closing its airports and started a movement of military aircraft from Elisabethville to meet the invasion.

Katanga army personnel, including white officers, forced Swedish UN guards at gunpoint to let two Katanga air force aircraft take off.

The head of Guinea's mission in Leopoldville, Tibu Tunkara did not say whether the Guinean troops—one battalion out of two destined for the Congo—would be put at Lumumba's disposal.

Fall Kills Carpenter

Ronald Geoffrey Marshall, a Saanichton carpenter, died today en route from Sidney to Victoria where he was being rushed for treatment of injuries suffered in a 16-foot fall.

According to reports, Mr. Marshall fell from a ladder while at work on a service station being constructed at the intersection of East Saanich Road and the new Swartz Bay Highway, near North Saanich High School.

The accident occurred at about 9.45 a.m.

Sidney Fire Department ambulance attended, and took the injured man to Rest Haven Hospital in Sidney. It was decided that he should have special surgery, but he died in the ambulance before reaching Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria.

Sidney RCMP are investigating and an inquest will be held.

The 47-year-old accident victim, a native son of Victoria, and member of the carpenters' union, lived on the Patricia Bay Highway at Saanichton. He is survived by the widow, Gladys, at home; a sister, Mrs. S. Arrowsmith, Saanichton; his mother, Mrs. Annie Marshall, Sidney, and three nieces.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by McCalls.

Halt Arms Dag Warns Belgium

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold has requested the United Nations Security Council to convene an emergency session tonight to deal with the Congo situation.

Diplomatic sources said the 11-nation body would meet at 8.30 p.m. EDT (5.30 p.m. PDT) and would remain in session far into the night.

Thursday Hammarskjold warned Belgium against tampering in the muddled affairs of the Congo.

The secretary-general said he had received confirmed reports that nine tons of weapons were unloaded Wednesday from a Belgian Sabena Airlines plane at Elisabethville airport in the secessionist province of Katanga.

HIT BY REDS

Hammarskjold, under attack from Russia, Yugoslavia and Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba, sought council action to halt the flow of outside aid to battling Congolese factions.

The call presumably was directed against both Belgium and the Soviet Union. Russia has been sending planes, troop carriers and technicians to Lumumba.

The secretary-general has also called on the 11-power council to provide $100,000,000 to help the infant nation get its bearings.

Hammarskjold has insisted the UN operation in the Congo must remain non-partisan and has proposed disarming non-UN military units as a step to restoring order.

VICE-REGAL POST SEEMS CERTAIN

Faux-Pas by PM's Ex-Aide Tips Off Pearkes Move

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Reports that Defence Minister George Pearkes will soon be leaving the cabinet to accept the office of lieutenant-governor of British Columbia have been strengthened by a political faux pas committed by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's former executive assistant.

The prime minister's aide, Gowan T. Guest, who resigned from his post this month to return to law practice on the west coast, has reportedly made a direct request for the nomination as a Conservative candidate in Mr. Pearke's seat of Esquimalt-Saanich. He has made the bid before it has become officially known that Mr. Pearkes was going to resign.

Mr. Pearkes' decision to quit the cabinet and step into the post of Queen's representative at Victoria is expected to hinge on the outcome of B.C.'s provincial election Monday. Mr. Pearkes is known to be acceptable as lieutenant-governor to the present premier, W. A. C. Bennett. However, should the Social Credit party be defeated Robert Strachan, the CCF leader, who is said to have the best chance of defeating the present regime, or the Liberal leader Ray Perrault, might not be amenable to the appointment of Mr. Pearkes.

Lieutenant-governors are appointed on the recommendation of the Prime Minister, but it is doubtful that the federal government would go directly against the wishes of a provincial premier.

Adding credence to the suggestion that Mr. Pearkes will soon be moving to B.C. is a report that friends are raising a $200,000 funds to assist him meet the high costs of holding the office of lieutenant-governor.

The fund for General Pearkes is being raised by a group of political non-partisans who financed the purchase, reconditioning and equipping of Stornoway as the official home of the Opposition leader in Ottawa, it is reported.

As lieutenant-governor of B.C., succeeding industrialist Frank M. Ross whose term expires early next month, Mr. Pearkes would draw only an official salary of $9,000 and an expense account allotment of $12,000. The cost of maintaining the lieutenant-governor's office and carrying out all the official and social obligations runs beyond that figure by far, it is understood.

If Mr. Bennett's party forms the government after the provincial election next week Mr. Pearkes' resignation is expected to follow shortly.

His departure could trigger the long awaited shuffle of the cabinet which is known to be in the cards. Already there are two vacancies. A forestry minister has to be named for the new forestry department and the office of secretary of state is vacant because the former minister Henri Courte-

He refused to make further comment.

Pickets Halt Ferry Run

From Times News Services

VANCOUVER — Operators of the ferry Island Princess said Thursday that union pickets will prevent it from sailing today.

The ferry failed to sail Thursday when two deckhands, members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC), refused to cross an information picket line by the rival Seafarers' International Union (Ind.).

They said they were adhering to established union principle of not crossing legal picket lines.

About 150 passengers were turned back at the Richmond dock of the ferry.

'Cheaper To Drink At Home'

A teen-aged girl, her brother and another youth pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Thursday to liquor offences, were told by the court it is cheaper to drink at home.

Fining each of them $20 for being minors in possession of liquor, Deputy Magistrate J. A. Byers said:

"Pretty expensive beer wasn't it? Would it not have been better to have it at home?"

The trio — Constance Lynne Johnston, 18, and William Dayrel Johnston, 19, of 884 Colville; and James Ronald William Leek, 18, of 2624 Wark — were checked by police in a car parked on Prospect Lake Road.

SOMMERS CASE NO 'WIT CH-HUNT'

Election Not Two-Party Fight, Gregory Cautions

NELSON (CP) — Victoria Liberal candidate, George F. Gregory warned here Thursday night at a Liberal meeting that Monday's election should not be regarded as a two-party battle between the CCF and Social Credit.

A voter is showing less than a high degree of integrity if he accepts without question that assertion that it is a choice between Social Credit or CCF," he said.

"I suggest that deception marks the whole pattern of this whole campaign. Do not allow yourselves to be persuaded that the trade union is going 100 per cent for the CCF party.

"There are a great many people in the trade unions who believe as I do that the last thing we want in society is a class society where Social Credit represents the workingman," he said. Such a step would be a backward one, he said.

"As for Attorney-General Robert Bonner calling me "Johnny one-note of the Liberal party," he said; "let me say it with pride if I am going to sound on one note, I am happy and proud that it be a note of integrity."

He criticized the government and the attorney-general's handling of the Sommers' case.

"I am not on a witch hunt. Let us be quick to forgive those who have yielded to temptation and repented. But let us judge harshly those who witnessed and countenanced and defended the falling of one of their number by the wayside, and remained unrepentant."

BOKSBURG, South Africa (AP)—The final death toll was announced today as 25—all Africans—in the rockfall that occurred last Saturday in the East Rand Proprietary gold mine here. The collapsed shaft has been cleared and all the bodies brought to the surface, it was announced.

M. J. FOLEY:

Nationwide Bid to Gain New Markets

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — A nation-wide effort to bring Canada more world markets for her products was called for here by M. J. Foley, president of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Limited of Vancouver.

Mr. Foley challenged the use of tariffs and artificial subsidies to protect Canadian industries that had "lost out to the fair competition of another trading nation." He asked for new incentives to lead individuals to back Canada's economic development with their own savings.

Addressing the summer meeting of the technical section, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, Mr. Foley said too much productive capacity exists in most basic industries in Canada. Many of them have become high-cost marginal producers in world markets.

Canadians must analyze their economy, he said. They must reognize "that the high standard of living which we have reached on this continent is what the economists call a high level of consumption.

"But no nation can for long consume more than it produces.

"The amount of prosperity we enjoy in the future will therefore depend entirely on our degree of success in producing what the world wants to buy from us, rather than from some other country."

Everyone pays tribute to competition as the basis of the free world's system but not everyone has the strength of mind to go along with the idea once he begins to slip behind in the competitive struggle, Mr. Foley said.

All four major political parties are fielding a full team of Victoria candidates in Monday's provincial election.

Here are thumbnail sketches of the 12 candidates seeking a majority of the city's 32,006 votes, and three seats in the legislature.

Social Credit, CCF, Conservative and Liberal parties each have three candidates—one for each seat.

In 1956, last provincial contest, there were 13 Victoria candidates, including three Communists, but only one Conservative. There are no Communists running.

Pictures and sketches are arranged alphabetically.

One of two women seeking office in Victoria for the CCF is Mrs. May Campbell.

Born in Kent, England, she came to Canada in 1904 and lived for many years in Saskatchewan when she and her late husband helped in the foundation of the CCF.

In Victoria, Mrs. Campbell is president of the Senior Citizens' Housing Association which has just completed Banfield Lodge housing project. She is also a member of the provincial Credit Union League, and active in the Women's Council here.

Former provincial architect Clive Campbell, born in England, came to Victoria in 1920.

He served 28 years in the provincial public works department, eventually becoming deputy minister of public works as well as chief architect until he was dismissed in 1959 in an administration hassle.

A former president of the Architectural Institute of B.C., Mr. Campbell also is a member of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

William Chant, 65, is the government's veteran politician.

He started his career in 1927 as a school trustee in Camrose, Alta., and became a councillor in 1932.

Mr. Chant was agriculture minister in the Aberhart Social Credit government in Alberta. He came to B.C. in 1953 to help its "new" party.

Elected to the B.C. legislature that year, Mr. Chant became public works minister in 1955. He was re-elected in 1956.

One-time bush pilot H. "Ted" Cressy is another Conservative runner in Victoria.

Cressy, 59, came to Victoria in 1922 after serving with the Royal Naval Air Service. From 1923 to 1926 he was a bush pilot and engineer for several companies, including B.C. Airways at Lansdowne Airfield.

He has been associated with many aviation interests, as a past president of the Air Force Association, B.C. branch, an executive of the Air Cadet League, a past president of Canadian Legion branch 176. Mr. Cressy now operates a private retail business.

Geoffrey Edgelow ran in Victoria for the Liberals in 1956. He finished fourth in a battle for three seats.

He has been an alderman in Victoria since 1954, and publishes the magazine Island Events.

Born in Edmonton, Mr. Edgelow, 49, was educated in Victoria and has lived here most of his life. He has been connected with a number of local service clubs and organizations, serving office on most of them, including Rotary, Navy League, BPO Elks, Laurier Club, Chamber of Commerce, Victoria Island Publicity Bureau.

Mrs. Rhoda Erickson is seeking a Victoria seat in the Legislature for the CCF.

Head-waitress at the Empress Hotel, Mrs. Erickson is a member of Victoria Labor Council, where she is chairman of the political action committee, helping to establish the new CCF-Labor party. She is president of local 276 Canadian Brotherhood Railway and Transport Workers' Union.

Although she's been active in labor circles since she came to the Empress seven years ago, this is her first try for public office.

George Gregory, Liberal member for Victoria at the last legislature, is a lawyer.

Born here in 1916, Mr. Gregory won the Distinguished Service Cross during the Second World War for action at sea.

He was first elected to the legislature at a by-election in 1953, and won re-election in 1956.

He's a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Gyro Club and Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion.

Neil Hindle is running for the second time as a CCF candidate in Victoria.

A member of the boilermakers union, Mr. Hindle has served on Vicortia Labor Council. He works at a local shipyard.

Born in Winnipeg, he came to Victoria in 1948, and ran for the CCF in 1956. He is president of the Victoria CCF Association.

Champion of municipal rights in election is Maj. C. A. P. Murison, one of the three Victoria Conservative candidates.

Born at Grenfell, Sask., he was educated in Victoria and at McGill University. He joined the British army in 1914, served through both world wars earning the Military Cross and retiring in 1949 to Duncan.

He was a councillor and later reeve of North Cowichan municipality from 1952 to 1959. Twice president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, he is the architect of many of its policies, including a broad proposal for tax reform.

Forrest L. Shaw, Victoria Liberal candidate, is a lawyer.

After serving in the First World War he set up law practice in Victoria. In 1938 he was appointed city solicitor, a post he held until 1945, when Premier John Hart asked him to serve on B.C. Power Commission.

In 1954, Mr. Shaw returned to his law practice.

Among his many associations with service clubs and similar organizations is a 10-year stretch as Vancouver Island president of the Navy League.

Waldo Skillings, 54, a close friend of Premier Bennett, is an insurance man, and is making his first try for provincial office in Victoria for the Social Credit party.

A former teacher, school trustee, alderman, Mr. Skillings was defeated in a mayoralty election in 1949 and when he ran federally for the Socreds in 1947.

He tried unsuccessfully to get the Social Credit provincial nomination for Victoria in 1956, and earlier had sought the federal nomination for the Conservative party in 1949.

J. Donald Smith, a real estate man, was first elected Social Credit member for Victoria in 1956.

Formerly, a Victoria alderman, he ran for mayor in 1959 and was beaten by Percy Scurrah after a years' long duel on plans for a mall and parking building in downtown Victoria.

Mr. Smith first ran for city council in 1951. He resigned as alderman to seek the mayoralty.

Neglect Verdict In Traffic Death

Missed Stop Sign, Driver Tells Jury

A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of culpable neglect against motorist John Richard Grealy, 1376 Pandora, concerning the death of Mrs. Annie Jane Mayne, 75, of 1900 Neil.

Mrs. Mayne was a front-seat passenger in a car driven by her son, Thomas W. Mayne, 2235 Harlow, on Sept. 1, when they were involved in a collision with a car driven by Grealy at the intersection of Foul Bay Road and Fairfield.

Th impact threw her from the car on to the street and she died in Royal Jubilee Hospital early last Wednesday, nearly a week later.

Dr. Ross McNeely, Jubilee Hospital pathologist, told the inquest in McCall's funeral home that in his opinion Mrs. Mayne's death was not due directly to the injuries she rereceived in the accident.

CORONER DISAGREES

Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, disagreed.

Dr. McNeely said the victim suffered multiple bruises and a fractured pelvis. The scalp was lacerated though the skull had not been fractured.

In his opinion a man in his 40s would have survived those injuries. Mrs. Mayne, however, had previously suffered a coronary attack and the shock was just too much for her damaged heart.

Thomas Mayne said he was taking his mother for a drive on the evening the accident occurred. He was driving within the limit eastwards along Fairfield Road and intended to turn north along Foul Bay Road.

When he reached the intersection he saw another car also heading north and they collided.

"It seemed to be going about 30 mph but I can't be sure," he said.

NORMAL SPEED

Richard C. Miller, 2571 Dalhousie, said he had stopped his car at the intersection of Irving and Fairfield and noticed Mr. Mayne's car pass at "normal speed." Shortly afterwards he heard a crash and saw the same car glance off another one and continue across the northeast corner of the intersection before coming to stop on Fairfield again.

Seventeen-year-old James Ruskin, 2725 Lincoln, said he was riding a bicycle north along Foul Bay Road when he was passed by a car "going at about 40 m.p.h."

DID NOT SEE

He didn't think this car stopped at the intersection with Fairfield because if it had, he would have caught it up. He did not see it stop at the stop sign.

Con. Douglas Grant gave evidence concerning the measurements of the intersection. The collision, he said, had occurred in the northeast section of the intersection.

The car driven by Mr. Mayne had continued over the curb of Foul Bay Road, collided with a stop sign, traversed some rough ground and ended up on Fairfield again facing southeast.

SLOWED DOWN

Giving evidence under the protection of the Canada Evidence Act, Grealy admitted he had not seen the stop sign although he had slowed down as he would normally at any intersection. He was not in a hurry.

He did not think the other car had attempted to brake.

Dr. Hart, summing up, said he could not agree with the pathologist's contention that death was not due directly to the accident.

An invalid was entitled to make use of facilities the same as anyone else. Although she had a bad heart, that did not make her death any less violent.

Registrar -Big 'R,' Small 'r'?

B.C.'s legal minds and motor-vehicle officials today are facing the riddle "When is a registrar not a registrar?"

If the answer is that B.C. has a registrar of motor-vehicles, then they'll be "off the hook."

If the answer is there isn't a registrar, then thousands of suspended motorists may flaunt their suspension.

Vancouver Magistrate Gordon Scott Thursday posed the riddle by aquitting a driver of a charge of driving while his licence was suspended.

Offered as proof of suspension by the crown was a certificate signed by George Lindsay, superintendent of motor vehicles.

Under the criminal code, argued lawyer Bruce Harvey, acting for the motorist, such a certificate must be signed by the "registrar" of motor vehicles.

Mr. Scott agreed and said Mr. Lindsay didn't qualify.

However, Mr. Lindsay feels he does so qualify and an appeal will be launched by the Vancouver prosecuto'r office.

An official of Mr. Lindsay's office said today the definition of the word registrar would be the key to the appeal.

He said the branch feels that Mr. Lindsay's position qualifies him as a registrar with a "small r" as the word appears in the criminal code.

Evidently Mr. Scott feels he should be a Registrar with a "big R".

City Students Win $1,600

Two Victoria students, Susan McPherson and Jack Martyn McLaren, were named today as winners of $1,600 IODE bursaries.

They are provided by the Second World War memorial fund which enables students to enter Canadian universities. There were 30 awards made this year.

Miss McPherson, 18, is the daughter of Mrs. Grace McPherson, 1841 Gonzales Crescent, and the late Major Thomas McPherson of Quebec.

The other award winner, now aged 18, lives at 517 Kelvin Road, son of Mrs. E. M. Norsworthy and the late Jack McLaren, who was killed in the Second World War, he attended Tolmie Elementary, S. J. Willis and Victoria High School, and will go to Victoria College.

Experts to Eye Victoria Parks

Victoria parks and boulevards will get close scrutiny from about 75 experts next month.

Looking for pointers will be senior officials of parks departments in B.C., Washington, and Idaho attending the first training institute held here by the International Northwest Parks Association.

TIMES ASK The

Q. Re bingo games played in Victoria for charity: Do the operators have to show an inspector the number of cards issued, cash received and amounts paid out in prizes? L.W.S.

A. Absolutely. An audit is made each time by a government inspector.

Q. I am under the impression that a few years ago the islands of the British West Indies joined in a federation. Would you please give us some facts on this matter? F.W.K.

A. The federation of 10 British island colonies came into being January 3, 1958. By federating the group obtained increased internal autonomy, but Great Britain still controls its international relations, defence and financial stability. Three other dependencies in the Caribbean area—British Guiana, British Honduras and the British Virgin Islands—chose to remain outside the federation. Members consist of Antigua, Barbados, Dominica, Grenada, Jamaica, Montserrat, St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and Trinidad-Tabago.

METER EXEMPTIONS ILLEGAL? NOBODY'S SAYING OFFICIALLY

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady today declined comment on a suggestion that parking meter exemptions given a variety of city and government officials, outside police departments and handicapped persons were illegal.

Legality of the exemptions was questioned by Ald. Elmer McEwen Thursday when council was told it could not give free meter exemptions on election day to campaign headquarters of the four political parties contesting Victoria seats.

Mr. O'Grady said Section 216 of the Municipal Act generally prohibited council from granting special exemptions to anyone.

"Then that would probably make all our exemptions to city officials illegal too, wouldn't it?" asked Ald. McEwen.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

For obstructing 30 cars on View Street while waiting to enter the T. Eaton parking lot, Betty Cleo Hill, 365 Lampson, was fined $10 in city police court today.

UN Summoned To Congo Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold has requested the United Nations Security Council to convene an emergency session tonight to deal with the Congo situation.

Diplomatic sources said the 11-nation body would meet at 8.30 p.m. EDT (5.30 p.m. PDT) and would remain in session far into the night.

Thursday Hammarskjold warned Belgium against tampering in the muddled affairs of the Congo.

The secretary-general said he had received confirmed reports that nine tons of weapons were unloaded Wednesday from a Belgian Sabena Airlines plane at Elisabethville airport in the secessionist province of Katanga.

Hammarskjold, under attack from Russia, Yugoslavia and Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba, sought council action to halt the flow of outside aid to battling Congolese factions.

The call presumably was directed against both Belgium and the Soviet Union. Russia has been sending planes, troop carriers and technicians to Lumumba.

The secretary-general has also called on the 11-power council to provide $100,000,000 to help the infant nation get its bearings.

Hammarskjold has insisted the UN operation in the Congo must remain non-partisan and has proposed disarming non-UN military units as a step to restoring order.

KATANGA INVADERS RESISTED

Guinea Wants To Pull Out

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters) — The Guinean detachment with the United Nations force said today it wanted to pull out of the Congo until the UN "ceased its flagrant interference" in internal Congolese affairs.

The Guinean action came soon after Premier Patrice Lumumba announced he had taken over the functions of head of state in addition to his present post of premier.

The head of the Guinean command told a press conference that Gen. Diane Lansana had asked President Sekou Toure to agree to the "provisional withdrawal" of the contingent.

In another development, The Associated Press reported from Elisabethville that Katanga government sources claimed the central Congolese government force invading Katanga province has been stopped by a resistance force.

No fighting has yet been reported between the invasion troops and the Katanga border guards, who have been planning their defences since Katanga seceded from the central government in July.

The Katanga government defied a United Nations order closing its airports and started a movement of military aircraft from Elisabethville to meet the invasion.

Katanga army personnel, including white officers, forced Swedish UN guards, at gunpoint to let two Katanga air force aircraft take off.

The head of Guinea's mission in Leopoldville, Tibu Tunkara did not say whether the Guinean troops—one battalion out of two destined for the Congo—would be put at Lumumba's disposal.

Carpenter Killed By 16-Foot Fall

Ronald Geoffrey Marshall, a Saanichton carpenter, died today en route from Sidney to Victoria where he was being rushed for treatment of injuries suffered in a 16-foot fall.

According to reports, Mr. Marshall fell from a ladder while at work on a service station being constructed at the intersection of East Saanich Road and the new Swartz Bay Highway, near North Saanich High School.

The accident occurred at about 9.45 a.m.

Sidney Fire Department ambulance attended, and took the injured man to Rest Haven Hospital in Sidney. It was decided that he should have special surgery, but he died in the ambulance before reaching Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria.

Sidney RCMP are investigating and an inquest will be held.

Florida Awaits Hurricane Blow

(Times News Services)

MARATHON, Fla.—Hurricane Donna swept in on the Florida Keys with murderous 150-mile-an-hour winds today and trained its sights on the populous Miami metropolitan area.

The Miami weather bureau issued an emergency warning that residents of the island chain stretching south from the Florida tip had only "an hour or two" to get out or sit tight in whatever shelters they could find.

At 1 p.m. EST (11 a.m. PDT) Donna's centre was located only 150 miles south-southeast of Miami and about the same distance east-southeast of Key West. It was moving toward the west-northwest at 12 miles an hour.

Hurricane hunter planes keeping watch on the "extremely wet" storm said it had begun a very gradual drift more northwestward, meaning "the area of maximum winds and highest tides would be experienced in the middle keys."

The turn made it even more likely than before than the Miami gold coast area and the southern west coast of Florida would feel at laest part of the storm's brutal force.

In an emergency warning to residents of the Keys—the long chain of islands extending south and west from the Florida mainland—the weather

Faux-Pas by PM's Ex-Aide Tips Off Pearkes Move

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — Reports that Defence Minister George Pearkes will soon be leaving the cabinet to accept the office of lieutenant-governor of British Columbia have been strengthened by a political faux pas committed by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's former executive assistant.

The prime minister's aide, Gowan T. Guest, who resigned from his post this month to return to law practice on the west coast, has reportedly made a direct request for the nomination as a Conservative candidate in Mr. Pearke's seat of Esquimalt-Saanich. He has made the bid before it has become officially known that Mr. Pearkes was going to resign.

Mr. Pearkes' decision to quit the cabinet and step into the post of Queen's representative at Victoria is expected to hinge on the outcome of B.C.'s provincial election Monday. Mr. Pearkes is known to be acceptable as lieutenant-governor to the present premier, W. A. C. Bennett. However, should the Social Credit party be defeated Robert Strachan, the CCF leader, who is said to have the best chance of defeating the present regime, or the Liberal leader Ray Perrault, might not be amenable to the appointment of Mr. Pearkes.

Lieutenant-governors are appointed on the recommendation of the Prime Minister, but it is doubtful that the federal government would go directly

'I Haven't Resigned'

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Defence Minister Pearkes landed here today on his way to visit the Royal Canadian Regiment camp at Ipperwash, Ont., but would give no clue to his future intentions.

"Well, I haven't resigned my constituency," Mr. Pearkes said. "I'm still a member of Parliament. Anyone can go and run where he likes, but there's got to be a vacancy."

He refused to make further comment.

Couldn't Prove Secret Service Deal on Theft

VANCOUVER (CP)—Donald Riggan, Social Credit candidate in the Sept. 12 British Columbia election who said he committed crimes while working for the Canadian Secret Service, today withdrew as a candidate.

DONALD RIGGAN
. . . out of race

He said a in statement:

"As of this moment I am no no longer a candidate in this election.

"I am taking this action to clear the Social Credit party of any responsibility in this matter. This is a decision of my wife and myself and it is made after careful thought.

"I can only hope that we will be able to lead a normal life and in some small way be accepted by the community and our friends."

Riggan said Thursday night he made three attempts to verify with unnamed authorities his story.

He issued a statement saying: "I stand convicted by the past, a past I felt had been left behind . . . I can only hope that to my friends, no explanation is necessary. To my enemies, and they appear powerful, no explanation is sufficient."

Mr. Riggan told of a "desperate situation" that led to the disclosure of his story.

There had been a "whispering campaign" about the charges for more than a week.

He said during the questioning by a reporter who inquired about the rumors, "I saw the new life I had built for myself and family going up in smoke."

DESPERATE SITUATION

"It was a desperate situation, and I was desperately anxious to preserve my wife and children from the shame that would follow such revelations, not too sensational in themselves, but highly colored by the bitter and vindictive campaign that has been waged against the party that I represent in Delta."

Mr. Riggan, 41-year-old father of six, is a director of the British Columbia Social Credit League and president of the constituency league in Delta, where is was seeking election in next Monday's province-wide voting.

He indicated, without specifying, that there were discrepancies in a statement published earlier in which he admitted he had been sentenced to three years in prison for theft of public funds.

The thefts occurred in Edson, Alta., while he was a bailiff for the Edmonton sheriff. But Riggan said it was part of an elaborate plot to obtain vital information from a "brilliant Nazi scientist named Adolph Kratz," who was serving a sentence for murder in Prince Albert Penitentiary.

IN ERROR

He said he was convicted by a jury on one charge and pleaded guilty to five others. He also admitted obtaining $1,175 in a car deal by false pretences, but claimed he pleaded guilty in error and did not correct the error because it made no difference to the three-year prison term he was given.

He was paroled after 11 months and served out the term on probation.

However, at Prince Albert, Deputy Warden Jack Weeks said he recalled both Kratz and Riggan. He described Kratz as being almost illiter-

We're Not Claiming Him RCMP States

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP refused today to link itself with an undercover assignment which former B.C. election camdidate Donald Riggin says he once carried out in order to obtain scientific information from a German prisoner of war.

"We certainly are not going to claim him," an RCMP spokesman said here. He added that he thought it was "really a political situation, rather than a police one."

The RCMP said its records show that a man by the name of Riggan did serve time in the Prince Albert Penitentiary, "but we are not going to say it was the same man," since details of the offences involved were lacking here.

bureau said tides will range up to 11 feet above normal.

Even six-foot tides would inundate a large part of the Keys.

Heavy squalls with considerable local flooding was forecast for the interior of Cuba.

Winds reached 150 mph at the centre of the storm and hurricane-force winds extended outward 135 miles to the southwest. Gales stretched 250 miles to the northeast and 140 miles to the southwest.

Forecasters said Donna might pass through the Florida Straits and move into the Gulf of Mexico.

BOARDED UP

Key West, a city of 45,000 lying 90 miles north of Havana, boarded up and prepared to wait out the storm. The huge naval installation there was buttoned up. All vessels put out to sea and aircraft were ferried northward.

HOMES DESTROYED

As the storm's first hard blows were delivered on Cuba, flood waters destroyed about 80 houses in the coastal community of Gibara. More than 3,000 persons were evacuated.

The hurricane produced one of the biggest buying sprees in south Florida since last Christmas. Shelves were stripped of canned goods, bread, milk, flashlights and batteries, candles and camp stoves.

against the wishes of a provincial premier.

Adding credence to the suggestion that Mr. Pearkes will soon be moving to B.C. is a report that friends are raising a $200,000 funds to assist him meet the high costs of holding the office of lieutenant-governor.

The fund for General Pearkes is being raised by a group of political non-partisans who financed the purchase, reconditioning and equipping of Stornoway as the official home of the Opposition leader in Ottawa, it is reported.

As lieutenant-governor of B.C., succeeding industrialist Frank M. Ross whose term expires early next month, Mr. Pearkes would draw only an official salary of $9,000 and an expense account allotment of $12,000. The cost of maintaining the lieutenant-governor's office and carrying out all the official and social obligations runs beyond that figure by far, it is understood.

If Mr. Bennett's party forms the government after the provincial election next week Mr. Pearkes' resignation is expected to follow shortly.

His departure could trigger the long awaited shuffle of the cabinet which is known to be in the cards. Already there are two vacancies. A forestry minister has to be named for the new forestry department and the office of secretary of state is vacant because the former minister Henri Courtemanche was appointed to the senate.

When Prime Minister Diefenbaker moves to fill these vacancies as well as making the appointment of a new defence minister he is expected to transfer some ministers from their present portfolios to new posts within the cabinet.

Hon. A. J. Brooks the present minister of veteran affairs is slated for appointment to the senate.

Mr. Guest's letter, it is believed here, was prompted by inside knowledge that Mr. Pearkes was soon to leave the cabinet.

In his letter the prime minister's ex-aide wrote that his political ambition "is extremely dependent on the decision of the Conservative people of Esquimalt-Saanich. This letter is to ask you, frankly, whether you think I might be acceptable as a candidate and whether I could count on your support and advice in that regard."

Before his departure from the post of executive assistant to the Prime Minister Mr. Guest made no secret of the fact that he is politically ambitious. He is anxious to run as a Conservative candidate in a West Coast riding so that he can return to Ottawa as a member of parliament some time in the future.

Hustle-Bustle As Big Fair Gets Underway

(From Duncan Bureau)

Months of labor was culminated today at the official opening of the two-day Cowichan Exhibition in Duncan by Deputy Agriculture Minister William McGillivray.

It took place on a portable stage on the exhibition grounds near James Street, and was followed by presentation of several trophies for winners in fruit, flowers, honey, and Indian crafts sections.

The fair grounds were opened to the public at 9 a.m. today, but Thursday the James Street curling rink was filled with exhibitors arranging their displays. Judging began at 7 p.m. Thursday and continued until midnight.

Best district exhibit was the Somenos Parent-Teacher Association display which won 235 points out of a possible 250. Second place was taken by the Shawnigan Lake Parent-Teacher Association with a score of 232. Cobble Hill Women's Institute scored 229 points to win third place.

These three exhibits of farm and dairy produce, vegetables, fruit, preserves, and bee products stand across the south end of the curling rink. Their bright colors stand out richly against the black paper covered background and tables.

The north end of the curling rink features displays of flowers, art, and a fine show of 32 pictures displayed by the Crofton Art Group. Pictures created by Cowichan district children during the first "painting in the park" classes this summer form an attractive display. In the arts section a four-panel display on loan from the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, titled "Form and Color," forms an educational feature.

The Indian arts section, set up before a background of Cowichan sweaters, features many woollen clothing articles, wood carvings, and a show of photographs depicting dearly early history in the Cowichan Valley.

The grounds are green from recent rains and the white buildings and white fence of the light-horse ring make a fine picture. The last nails were hammered into the newly-constructed stock building on the northeast corner only hours before it was put to use.

U.S. 'Spite' Hits Fraser Coho Run

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian fisheries officials today charged Washington State officials of spite action that could wipe out a cycle of the Fraser River coho salmon.

Spokesmen said action by Milo Moore, Washington State director of fisheries, in recently opening fishing off Point Roberts and Bellingham was a reprisal designed to save United States coho runs and erase a Canadian cycle.

They said the only coho in that small area are bound for the Fraser River. Coho are called silver salmon in the U.S.

W. R. Hourston, Pacific fishing area director, last week refused a request by Moore to close the Strait of Juan de Fuca for fishing.

As a result of the Canadian refusal, and continued fishing in the rich area at the mouth of the Juan de Fuca Strait, Moore reopened a small section off Point Roberts.

Officials say the path of the coho is mainly on the Canadian side of the border in the Juan de Fuca than mainly on the U.S. side in the Strait of Georgia until past Point Roberts.

They say there is ample escapement for the fish in Juan de Fuca.

Most of the fish head for the Fraser River although some go to other rivers in Canada and the U.S.

PICKETERS IN TIGHT SKIRTS

Sex Newest Strike Weapon

LONDON (UPI) — Fifteen teen-aged girls who walked off their jobs here may have found the ultimate strike weapon—flirting.

Linda James, a beautiful 18-year-old Cockney lass, who is the youngest shop steward in Britain, led 14 girls and two men out on strike three days ago at Sunpak Ltd., a maker of collapsible tubes and other items.

"We will fight to the end for shorter hours, better pay and decent ventilation," said Linda.

Police inspector James Mayer warned her there must be "no rough stuff."

Linda agreed, but she said, "we may flirt with the truck drivers to try to stop them going out of the factory to make deliveries."

So Linda and the other girls dress in tight skirts and wear spike heels with pointed toes for their picket tour every day.

There has been only one crack in the united front. The husband of 19-year-old Doris McGuigan, one of the pickets, has threatened to leave his wife unless she gives up the strike.

The husband told her this morning: "This strike has made you neglect your home and responsibilities. You have not even made the bed yet."

WHAT'S ENGLISH COSTUME?

. . . Sou'westers And Wellingtons!

LONDON (CP) — What is the national English costume?

That was what Mrs. E. D. Milner of Oshawa, Ont., wanted to find out when she wrote to The Daily Mirror.

She belongs to an "old country club" which provides dolls in British costumes to hospitals.

"There is no problem in dressing the Scotch, Welsh and Irish dolls," she wrote, "but we cannot decide on the correct dress for English dolls.

"The north country members say she should wear clogs and the southerners want her dressed as a coster.

"Can you help us decide on a truly national English dress?"

The Mirror invited readers to decide.

Three did, but all had different ideas.

A London woman suggested "a two-piece tweed costume, a felt hat and a handbag to match."

A woman in Hampshire was more romantic. "I think a doll dressed as 'England' should wear a long white gown, with roses plentifully dotted over the material. She should have fair hair, blue eyes and wear a crown of roses."

A Staffordshire woman suggested the English national costume for the doll should be "a raincoat, sou'wester and Wellington boots."

Tories Speak For Labor Says Bryant

The Progressive Conservative Party speaks for labor as well as "all sections of our society," Esquimalt candidate James Bryant told a rally in the Crystal Garden Thursday night.

"For the CCF to claim they alone represent labor is misleading and untrue," he said. "Past legislation in B.C. has been designed to give a temporary advantage to either labor or management.

"A glance at the industrial scene during the past few years shows the inadequacy of the Social Credit labor legislation program.

SECONDARY

"I say to you that both labor and management must be made to realize that their own interests must be secondary to the welfare of the people as a whole."

Mr. Bryant said the Conservatives would restore a full-time Labor Relations Board composed of responsible men; write a new labor code with management and labor; stop any government from using industrial unrest as a political football.

Merger Vote Oct. 20 At Ladysmith

LADYSMITH — Ratepayers here will vote Oct. 20 on extension of the village boundaries both north and south of the city which would increase village area from 220 to 1,965 acres.

The move would boost the population by 758 to a total of about 2,850.

A petition for amalgamation of the larger area into the village was conducted by Ladysmith Chamber of Commerce. There are 507 resident owners and corporations in the new area who are qualified to sign, and 327 signatures were received. Total in favor was 64.49 per cent, and only a 60 per cent majority was required.

Before the amalgamation can go through, it must be approved by a three-fifths majority of Ladysmith ratepayers. Information regarding the move will be made available to village residents in the next few weeks.

In addition to the new land area, amalgamation would include within the village some 311 acres of water.
